

Politicians Prove They're Adept At Mud-Slinging

NEWINGTON, Conn. (AP) — Politicians are nothing but a bunch of mudslingers, right?

Last Sunday afternoon a gang of politicians gathered in the park. They brought their families and picnic lunches and also hauled a load of fine red dirt from beside the road and piled it in the shade of a big maple tree.

They fetched buckets of water from the park pond and mixed it with the dirt. Their children helped, with obvious delight and anticipation. Soon it was mud. The kids squeezed it through their fingers and approved.

The politicians took up handfuls of the mud, stood back and let fly. They slung mud at one another, the children slung mud at the politicians, the politicians at the children. Everybody ran around slinging mud.

"Dirty politics," said Paul Ucello, Democrat.

"Muddy but unbowed," said Bill LaPorte, Republican.

When it was over the politicians clasped each other's slimy hands, slapped each other's splattered backs, laughed at each other's grimy faces and headed for the keg.

"Did you enjoy it?" asked LaPorte, toweling off his wristwatch. "Meet Bunny Husmer. She's the nut over whose kitchen table this crazy idea was hatched."

"I confess," Mrs. Husmer said, shaking mud out of her hair.

"We were sitting around trying to think up ways to get more people involved, to take an interest in the town. It was late, we were all tired, ready to go home, when suddenly we came up with the idea of a mud-slinging contest. It was so silly we figured it might work."

The challenge was issued forthwith to the Democrats and accepted grandly, not only to a mud-slinging contest but also to a tug-of-war across the park pond.

At a time when the dirt of less literal mudslinging, and worse, has not yet worn off the American politician's image, there they were, the town's councilmen, school board members, zoning commissioners and all their families, out on a Sunday afternoon cooking hamburgers and playing in the mud.

Ludicrous? It was a joy to behold. "In 15 years I've watched this town grow from 15,000 to about 28,000," said Councilman Ucello. "We not only grew fast, we grew apart. This is the sort of town event that can get us all together. I think it's a great idea — even if it was the Republicans'."

Republican LaPorte laughed. "In a small town, your political opponents are also your neighbors. Politics has never been dirty in Newington," LaPorte said. "We go after each other on issues, but we work together. I'd like to see us work together and make this an annual event."

7 Counties Listed In Pollution Crisis

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency has released a preliminary report on its proposed sulfur dioxide emissions regulations which lists seven northeastern and eastern counties as critical air pollution areas.

The state is developing the plan as an alternative proposal to one issued by the federal EPA last August. That version established sulfur dioxide discharge limits for 55 counties and 100 large industrial plants and 27 power generating stations. The federal plan is being appealed in the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

Ned Williams, Ohio EPA director, said the state plan should be issued in eight to 12 weeks. It will include county-by-county detail of areas which will need to reduce sulfur dioxide emissions and set compliance dates.

Sulfur dioxide is a byproduct of coal burning and has become a political and economic issue in Ohio. All coal mined in this state is considered high sulfur as opposed to the western low-sulfur variety.

Miners are claiming the federal rules would put them out of jobs because, they say, the market for Ohio coal would disappear. Utility firms and large industries say those regulations would force the companies to make large and unneeded expenditures for smoke stack filtering devices called scrubbers.

The seven counties Williams said his agency considers "critical" air pollution areas requiring controls are: Lucas, Lorain, Cuyahoga, Lake, Mahoning, Columbiana and Jefferson.

Coshocton and Scioto counties also are listed as critical by Williams, but he notes that large industrial sources of pollutants are cleaning up their emissions already and should not need further controls.

"Six counties—Summit, Stark, Trumbull, Montgomery, Franklin and Hamilton—are considered 'borderline' and are still undergoing extensive review," Williams noted, adding that the need for controls there will not be determined until the investigation is complete.

Williams said 75 other counties now face no sulfur dioxide regulations and won't in the future unless air pollution readings increase dramatically.

"In some cases we see the need to strengthen the federal regulations and in others there is a need to make them more reasonable. Our sole objective," Williams said, "has been to write a plan and regulations that would satisfy both the requirements of the Clean Air Act and the unique needs of Ohio."

Once the regulations are drafted, the federal EPA will study the document and accept or reject it. If it is rejected, Ohio officials may try to amend the rules, may hold more public hearings and completely rewrite them or they may let the federal regulations take effect.

Air Travel To Britain Could End

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most air travel between the United States and Great Britain could halt in less than a week unless the two countries break a stalemate delaying agreement on a new transportation treaty.

A halt in flights over the North Atlantic would disrupt vacation plans for thousands of summer travelers.

Transportation Secretary Brock Adams, described as "worried" about the situation, scheduled a news conference for today to discuss the talks underway in London, but later canceled the meeting with the press without explanation.

Adams met Tuesday and Wednesday with the presidents of Trans World Airlines, Pan American and Seaboard World Airways to consider alternate landing sites in Europe in case the carriers of the two nations have to stop service between the United States and Britain.

TWA and National Airlines, which flies between Miami and London, have filed proposals with the Civil Aeronautics Board to divert their London-bound flights to Paris.

Pan Am likely would shift flights to Brussels and Amsterdam. Pan Am also is proposing that its Tokyo-Hong Kong flights land at Taiwan because Hong Kong is British territory and falls under the agreement.

Seaboard, a cargo carrier, also is likely to change to Paris.

Some American officials have expressed optimism that an agreement in principle can be reached by the deadline next Wednesday. That would allow extension of the present treaty while details are made final.

Find Oil In Atom Cartel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of the Gulf Oil Corp. and its Canadian-based subsidiaries actively participated in an international cartel that sought to fix uranium prices and supplies, according to documents obtained by a House investigations unit.

The documents show Gulf involvement with the cartel dating back to 1972. They include minutes of cartel meetings around the world in which Gulf officials are listed as attending.

And they reveal a barrage of internal memoranda between Gulf attorneys and officials in Canada and the United States discussing the cartel and legal and economic ramifications of Gulf's participation.

The papers, subpoenaed by the House Commerce Committee's investigations subcommittee, also document participation in the cartel by the government of Canada. They were made public by the panel today.

Gulf Chairman Jerrold McAfee and other top present and former Gulf officials were to defend Gulf's involvement in the cartel today as the investigations subcommittee opens hearings on alleged uranium price-fixing.

The officials were subpoenaed to appear.

Gulf has acknowledged participation in the cartel by its Canadian subsidiaries, but insists that it did nothing to violate U.S. antitrust laws and that it was forced into the arrangement by the Canadian government.

But committee leaders say the documents, many of them confidential Gulf corporate communications, raise serious questions about Gulf's contention that its U.S. operations were not involved and that its Canadian uranium operations were unwilling participants.

"It is abundantly clear that an international cartel rigged the price of uranium in the world market for at least three years," said Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., subcommittee chairman.

The documents were obtained by the subcommittee in the course of complex litigation involving Gulf, Westinghouse and a number of foreign and U.S. uranium producers.

Gulf has been accused by Westinghouse, a major manufacturer of equipment used in nuclear power generators, of having helped to mastermind a conspiracy that drove up the price of uranium in three years from $6 a pound in 1972 to nearly $41 a pound.

Westinghouse sued Gulf and 28 other U.S. and foreign uranium producers, claiming it was victimized by the operation of such a cartel and was unable to obtain the uranium it needed to supply its customers, commercial atomic power plants.

Some of those utilities sued

Westinghouse when that firm failed to deliver promised amounts of uranium.

The documents include minutes of business meetings of the cartel in Canada, France and South Africa in 1972 at which foreign uranium producers allegedly sought to set the world price for uranium for freeworld markets outside the United States.

The cartel operated at a time when there was a U.S. embargo on domestic use of imported uranium. That embargo is now being lifted and will be removed entirely in 1978.

Documents quote Gulf and Canadian officials as saying there appeared to be no risk of Gulf violating U.S. antitrust laws as long as the embargo remained intact and the U.S. uranium market was not influenced by the cartel's actions.

Westinghouse lawyers contend that the cartel's actions also forced up uranium prices in the United States.

Teacher Bill Escapes House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislation granting strong job security to teachers in all school districts in the state fairly and equitably.

One reason the legislation is so controversial, however, is that it would establish extensive due process rights outside the collective bargaining process for teachers faced with dismissal.

"Without question, this is instant tenure," said Asst. Minority Leader Norman A. Murdock, R-21 Cincinnati. Murdock charged the legislation was marred by the "shadow of post-election policy," a reference to the influence of the OEA with majority Democrats.

In addition, the Hamilton County lawmaker argued that tenure provided by the bill would impinge on the "authority and power" of 617 elected local school boards.

Notwithstanding the political implications, five Republicans voted for it and nine Democrats opposed it.

One dissenting Democrat, Asst. Floor Leader Patrick A. Sweeney, threw his microphone across his desk in frustration at one point, after being ruled out of order on an amendment by House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston.

Essentially, the bill establishes four teacher contracts, based on experience and continuing education requirements.

Teachers with three successive years in a system and 18 semester hours of continuing education credit, would be eligible for a continuing—in effect a lifetime—contract. They could demand a hearing before an impartial referee, if they were fired, and the arbiter's decision would be binding on the teacher and school board.

Teachers with three years experience, but less than 18 hours credit, would get a "limited contract," guaranteeing a hearing before a referee who would make a nonbinding recommendation to the school board.

Teachers with less than three years experience would have to be notified in writing of their deficiencies before they are dismissed and would be entitled to a meeting with the superintendent.

The amendment delaying the effective date, sponsored by Rep. John E. Johnson, D-68 Orrville, also required that the state reimburse local districts for a portion of the cost of continuing education programs for teachers.

The bill requires boards of education to set up detailed evaluation programs to monitor the classroom competency of teachers. These programs would have to be in place by March 1, 1978.

Gays Seek Television Broadcasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission is being asked to extend the broadcast fairness doctrine to let homosexuals appear on television to counter criticisms of their lifestyle.

A San Francisco gay activist group asked the FCC on Wednesday to order a Glendale, Calif., television station to air programming in response to the views of anti-gay spokeswoman Anita Bryant.

The petition alleged that station KVOF aired six hours of programming featuring Miss Bryant and her husband, Bob Green, talking about their recent Save Our Children, Inc., anti-gay campaign. But the petition says the station refused requests to allow homosexuals to go before cameras to present their views.

An FCC spokesman said the petition, submitted by the Council on Religion and the Homosexual, Inc., was apparently the first of its kind asking that the fairness doctrine be applied to questions of homosexuality.

"I think it's fair to say this is the first time an issue of this magnitude involving gays is being presented," the spokesman said.

The FCC spokesman said that although the petition was referred initially to the agency's division that handles complaints against broadcast outlets, it is likely that an issue "as explosive as this" will be decided by the full commission.

CHECK FISH KILL — Game Protector Tom Weldon and Health Department Environmentalist Hugh Barnhill collect samples of a substance which has apparently killed downstream fish in Hargus Creek. Preliminary tests Wednesday showed that the creek water was not polluted, they said, and laboratory test results are expected today to determine the toxicity of the substance. The material is described as a form of insulation. Weldon and Barnhill, along with a team of researchers from the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, are also attempting to find how and why the substance was in the creek.

Fingerprints Eyed In Slayings

LOCUST GROVE, Okla. (AP) — Authorities hope that three fingerprints and a footprint will help identify the person who killed three Girl Scouts as they slept in a tent.

Two of the girls were beaten to death in their sleeping bags and one was strangled. All were sexually molested. Investigators have been generally close-mouthed about developments in the case, but there were reports that three clear fingerprints had been obtained from the victims' bodies.

Officials also theorize that the murderer may have burgled a counselors' tent and a nearby farmhouse. One of the four counselors who slept in the tent reported Monday that her purse was stolen.

In addition, police found a pair of eyeglasses and a glasses case belonging to a counselor along the path where the bodies were dragged in their blood-soaked sleeping bags.

Dist. Atty. Sid Wise said the four counselors had been questioned extensively. The farmhouse was padlocked, and authorities refused to discuss what, if anything, they found.

Investigators found several large footprints from tennis shoes too large to belong to the girls in the blood-spattered tent, but they have had difficulty checking the prints because the killer had tried to mop up the blood with a cloth.

They have made a cast of another footprint found on the path.

Eight-year-old Lori Lee Farmer of Tulsa was buried Wednesday.

Ten-year-old Doris Denise Milner, also of Tulsa, was to be buried today. Michelle Guse, 9, of Broken Arrow, will be buried Friday.

Nude Pin-Ups Irritate Official

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Indiana's new corrections commissioner is sounding the call that nude pin-ups adorning prison cell walls must come down.

Gordon Faulkner says, "I don't want any kind of picture pasted all over the walls of the institutions. There's an additional problem of having nude pictures pasted on the walls because it may be offensive to some people."

Faulkner says prisoners will have a reasonable time to comply with the order, adding that "45 days would be a reasonable period."

Faulkner says he made the decision after touring prisons and finding that photos were "one of the things that concerned me."

The girls' bodies were found Monday at the first dawn of what was to have been a two-week campout at Camp Scott, a 49-year-old, 610-acre site owned by the Magic Empire Girl Scout Council based in Tulsa.

The camp is in a heavily wooded area on the fringe of the Cookson Hills of eastern Oklahoma, about 45 miles from Tulsa.

Reports of other incidents at Camp Scott over the past year also have surfaced, including one that the cabin of two Tulsa troop leaders was ransacked on April 1 and about $53 taken. That incident prompted Girl Scout leaders to cut short a weekend encampment by one day.

A peeping tom incident was reported at the camp last summer.

Wise said he didn't believe the slayings were the work of "a woman homosexual."

Authorities also were testing the floor of the tent, as well as a six-volt flashlight and a roll of electrical tape which were found in the camp. The girls' mouths were taped with the two-inch wide black tape.

And, while most items at the camp were wet Monday morning because of dew, investigators also found several yards of dry rope.

ROUNDTOWN

ENGRAVING and registration of citizen band radios and other equipment will be held 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, June 25, at the Heck's Department Store parking lot.

The project is sponsored by the Circleville Kiwanis Club, Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, Circleville Police, and React.

THOSE planning to enter the Miss 4th of July Contest have until midnight, June 23 to get their entry form in. The entry forms appeared in the June 10 and June 14 edition of the Herald or they can be picked up at one of the following locations in Ashville: Ashville Pharmacy, Citizens Bank, Teays Valley High School, Featheringham's Gift Store, Ashville Swimming Pool, and Equitable Federal Savings and Loan Association.

In Circleville they can be found at The Other Place, The Deb Shop, The Lamp Post, and the Circleville High School.

They also are at Logan Elm and Westfall High Schools.

The contest will be held Friday evening, July 1, following the 7 p.m.

Uniform Speed Limit Promoted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The speed limit on Ohio highways would be a uniform 55 miles per hour at day and night, under a bill sent to the Senate after 59-22 approval in the House.

Rep. Don S. Maddux, D-90 Lancaster, would increase the speed limit from 50 to 55 for commercial tractors, school buses, streetcars and trackless trolleys when they are driven on highways outside of cities.

Teacher Bill Escapes House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislation granting strong job security to teachers who meet three-year tenure requirements has finally escaped the House and is headed for the more friendly confines of the Ohio Senate.

After 1½ hours of parliamentary wrangling and attempts to weaken it, House members approved the bill 59-39 Wednesday, one week after it was blocked on the floor and returned to committee.

John Hall, skilled lobbyist for the Ohio Education Association, said the "shape of the bill is very workable" and may not need to be changed to any great extent in the Senate, where the OEA has considerable clout.

But the teacher group, chief backer of the bill, will look closely at an amendment delaying the effective date until July 1, 1978. That amendment and one limiting the due process rights of principals brought the measure to within one vote of the three-fifths majority necessary to override a veto.

Gov. James A. Rhodes vetoed a similar bill on July 3, 1976.

"It offers professional evaluation for competent teachers and also offers procedures for removing lousy teachers from the classroom," said the sponsor, Rep. Michael P. Stinziano, D-

30 Columbus. He said the bill would affect "all teachers in all school districts in the state fairly and equitably."

One reason the legislation is so controversial, however, is that it would establish extensive due process rights outside the collective bargaining process for teachers faced with dismissal.

"Without question, this is instant tenure," said Asst. Minority Leader Norman A. Murdock, R-21 Cincinnati. Murdock charged the legislation was marred by the "shadow of post-election policy," a reference to the influence of the OEA with majority Democrats.

In addition, the Hamilton County lawmaker argued that tenure provided by the bill would impinge on the "authority and power" of 617 duly elected local school boards.

Notwithstanding the political implications, five Republicans voted for it and nine Democrats opposed it.

One dissenting Democrat, Asst. Floor Leader Patrick A. Sweeney, threw his microphone across his desk in frustration at one point, after being ruled out of order on an amendment by House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston.

Essentially, the bill establishes four teacher contracts, based on ex-

Teachers with less than three years experience would have to be notified in writing of their deficiencies before they are dismissed and would be entitled to a meeting with the superintendent.

The amendment delaying the effective date, sponsored by Rep. John E. Johnson, D-68 Orrville, also required that the state reimburse local districts for a portion of the cost of continuing education programs for teachers.

The bill requires boards of education to set up detailed evaluation programs to monitor the classroom competency of teachers. These programs would have to be in place by March 1, 1978.

Gays Seek Television Broadcasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission is being asked to extend the broadcast fairness doctrine to let homosexuals appear on television to counter criticisms of their lifestyle.

A San Francisco gay activist group asked the FCC on Wednesday to order a Glendale, Calif., television station to air programming in response to the views of anti-gay spokeswoman Anita Bryant.

The petition alleged that station KVOF aired six hours of programming featuring Miss Bryant and her husband, Bob Green, talking about their recent Save Our Children, Inc., anti-gay campaign. But the petition says the station refused requests to allow homosexuals to go before cameras to present their views.

An FCC spokesman said the petition, submitted by the Council on Religion and the Homosexual, Inc., was apparently the first of its kind asking that the fairness doctrine be applied to questions of homosexuality.

"I think it's fair to say this is the first time an issue of this magnitude involving gays is being presented," the spokesman said.

The FCC spokesman said that although the petition was referred initially to the agency's division that handles complaints against broadcast outlets, it is likely that an issue "as explosive as this" will be decided by the full commission.

The camp is in a heavily wooded area on the fringe of the Cooson Hills of eastern Oklahoma, about 45 miles from Tulsa.

Reports of other incidents at Camp Scott over the past year also have surfaced, including one that the cabin of two Tulsa troop leaders was ransacked on April 1 and about $53 taken. That incident prompted Girl Scout leaders to cut short a weekend encampment by one day.

A peeping tom incident was reported at the camp last summer.

Wise said he didn't believe the slayings were the work of "a woman homosexual."

Authorities also were testing the floor of the tent, as well as a six-volt flashlight and a roll of electrical tape which were found in the camp. The girls' mouths were taped with the two-inch wide black tape.

And, while most items at the camp were wet Monday morning because of dew, investigators also found several yards of dry rope.

ROUNDTOWN

ENGRAVING and registration of citizen band radios and other equipment will be held 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, June 25, at the Heck's Department Store parking lot.

The project is sponsored by the Circleville Kiwanis Club, Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, Circleville Police, and React.

THOSE planning to enter the Miss 4th of July Contest have until midnight, June 23 to get their entry form in. The entry forms appeared in the June 10 and June 14 edition of the Herald or they can be picked up at one of the following locations in Ashville: Ashville Pharmacy, Citizens Bank, Teays Valley High School, Featheringham's Gift Store, Ashville Swimming Pool, and Equitable Federal Savings and Loan Association.

In Circleville they can be found at The Other Place, The Deb Shop, The Lamp Post, and the Circleville High School.

They are also at Logan Elm and Westfall High Schools.

The contest will be held Friday evening, July 1, following the 7 p.m.

Uniform Speed Limit Promoted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The speed limit on Ohio highways would be a uniform 55 miles per hour at day and night, under a bill sent to the Senate after 59-22 approval in the House.

Rep. Don S. Maddux, D-90 Lancaster, would increase the speed limit from 50 to 55 for commercial tractors, school buses, streetcars and trackless trolleys when they are driven on highways outside of cities.

Market Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices retreated today in the aftermath of Wednesday's weak showing by the market.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell nearly 2 points in early trading.

Losers took a small lead over gainers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the market's failure Wednesday to follow through on Tuesday's strong rally had come as something of a disappointment.

They said the pullback tended to diminish hopes for any sustained rally in the immediate future.

Today's prices included Dow Chemical, off 1/2 at 34 3/4; American Home Products, ahead 1/2 at 28 1/2, and General Electric, unchanged at 56 1/2.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average dropped 5 points to 917.57.

But gaining and losing issues were about evenly balanced on the NYSE.

Big Board volume reached 22.64 million shares, against 25.39 million on Tuesday.

The NYSE's composite index lost .10 to 54.52.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .10 at 115.50.

Farmer's Union Opposes Beef Checkoff

The Ohio Farmers Union Full Board of Directors met in Bellefontaine, June 11 and urged cattle producers to register at their local ASCS offices June 6-17 so they can participate in the July 5-15 voting on the proposed national beef check-off program.

The board said all cattlemen have a big stake in the outcome of the beef referendum because if it passes they will pay 30 cents out of every $100 worth of cattle they sell.

This will raise nationally some $35-$40 million each year, the board said, but the program carries no promise that it will increase profits for cattle producers. The board noted that the checkoff program has no provisions to deal with overproduction of cattle, inflation, meat imports or other factors that have reduced cattlemen's profits in recent years.

"We hear the promoters of this program say that advertising and promotion will sell more beef," the board said, "but we think there is no point in selling more beef if the price is too low."

The board said that if the U.S. economy continues to improve and the unemployment rate drops, then consumers will have more money in their pockets to spend for such products as beef.

This development would have a lot more to do with increasing beef sales than millions spent for advertising, the board concluded.

Irish Vote; Close Race Predicted

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Prime Minister Liam Cosgrave's Fine Gael-Labor coalition was given a slight edge as Irish voters went to the polls today to elect a government to face rampant economic woes and the guerrilla war next door in Northern Ireland.

A tight race was predicted, but most commentators expected Cosgrave's forces to nose out Jack Lynch's Fianna Fail and become the first government in Irish history to win re-election.

Fine Gael, "Family of the Irish" in Gaelic, and Fianna Fail, "Soldiers of Destiny," have opposed each other since the 1920-1923 civil war. Fine Gael won the 1973 election and with its allied Laborites had a four-vote majority in the last 148-seat Dail, the lower house of parliament.

The three-week campaign by a record 375 candidates began by focusing on inflation and unemployment. Prices have been rising at an annual rate of 16 per cent and the government puts the jobless total at 116,000, one of every 10 in the work force. Both factions promised to cut taxation and provide other economic windfalls.

In the final days of wooing the 2.1 million voters, Cosgrave's party raised the issue of the Irish Republican Army and its guerrillas fighting to drive the British from Protestant-dominated Northern Ireland and unite it with the Roman Catholic republic.

Clevenger Speaks To Special Children Group

Jay Clevenger, administrator of the Pickaway County Mental Retardation Program, spoke at the monthly meeting of Special Children Monday.

He told of the total program for mental health and retardation in Pickaway County. It includes infant stimulation, a home program for development problems; the pre school for developmental disabilities; the Brooks-Yates School, which includes courses in self-reliant apartment living; the Sheltered Workshop, where adults do contract work, pottery, and hand crafts; and the home visitation program for shut-ins.

Clevenger showed slides to accompany the information. Following questions and discussion, the business meeting was held.

Karen Peters consented to be secretary of the group. All participants of Handicap Awareness Week were thanked. It was noted that the group is in need of a typewriter that will cut a good stencil.

Interesting programs are planned through November. On July 11, the teachers of the intensive instruction classes will talk on consistency at home as an aid to the progress of the child. A family picnic is planned for Aug. 8. Contact Cookie Taylor, 474-2014 for information.

A swimming program for children with learning problems will begin June 30. For information call 474-1701. A story hour for special children will be given at the Pickaway County Library 10 a.m. June 29.

The next meeting is planned for July 11.

Presort First Class Mail Program Offers Savings

Many commercial mailers have achieved significant savings and at the same time helped post offices process their mailings by taking advantage of a simple workshare program, the U.S. Postal Service said today.

The program, called Presort First-Class Mail, offers mailers a one cent per piece lower rate on all presorted first-class mail meeting certain requirements. The Postal Service has handled more than one billion pieces under the program.

The Postal Service estimates participating mailers have saved more than $10 million since the program began in July, 1976.

To qualify for the lower rate, there must be at least 500 pieces in the mailing. The mailer must presort the mailing to five digit ZIP Codes whenever there are 10 or more pieces having the same ZIP Code. After presorting as much as possible to five digits, the mailer must then presort the remaining mail to three digits whenever there are 50 or more pieces.

The Postal Service provides necessary trays and the mailer bundles and packages the mailing for delivery to the post office. Each piece must be printed or stamped with the words, "Presorted First Class." Payment for postage is made by postage meter or permit imprint. Postmasters set local requirements for acceptance hours and deposit points, but in general want the mail deposited between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

In addition to the lower rate for each piece presorted by ZIP Codes to five and three digits, customers benefit by establishing their mailing lists in ZIP sequence. Once a list is sequenced by ZIP Code, mailers can better schedule mailings for uniform delivery and also isolate customers geographically, such as types of residential areas, for other communication purposes.

The Postal Service benefits because presorted mail bypasses many handling operations and is already sequenced by ZIP Code. This helps assure consistent and reliable first-class mail service.

Customers likely to take advantage of presort savings include utilities, retailers, oil companies, publishers, banks and credit card companies, stock brokers, insurance firms and also Federal, state and local government agencies.

Details on the Presort First-Class Mail program are available from postmasters or postal customer service representatives, the Postal Service said.

Blue Lancers Place In State Competition

The Blue Lancers Baton and Drum Corps of Circleville, under the direction of Elaine Lloyd, received two second place awards and one first place award in the "Ohio State NBTA 1977 Corps Championships" held June 12th at Lancaster High School, Lancaster.

The Corps was entered in the military corps event and the parade corps event. Requirements for both categories are different and total performance time also differs. Many rules and regulations are designed for each of the five categories which can be entered. The Blue Lancers placed second in military and parade corps division and their drum section placed first in senior drum ensemble.

The state corps titles for each division will not be claimed until the November contest to be held in Stow, Ohio. The Blue Lancers will be making minor adjustments to their shows with hopes of claiming the state title in their divisions in the fall.

Director Elaine Lloyd was very pleased with the groups performances and their score sheets had improved remarkably. The contest corps consists of 26 of the 62 regular corps members. Those participating in the state contest were: R. Connell, K. Harris, J. Harris, B. Hindy, L. Schleich, B. Hindy, S. Knece, M. Honeycutt, D. Hoover, D. Lemley, A. Ross, L. Haddox, D. Pennington, as twirlers. C. Smalley, S. Bowling, T. Bost, M. McNaughton, C. Nungester and J. Harris as color guard. J. Garrett, W. Rhodes, D. Rossiter, B. Erwin, M. Seaton and S. Glasgow as drum section.

Rail Authority Misses Deadline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Already past one deadline, the Ohio Rail Transportation Authority (ORTA) may have until Dec. 31 to complete a report on the feasibility of high speed rail passenger service in Ohio.

The original deadline expired almost a year ago, as the fledgling agency struggled to get off the ground.

The extension measure, sponsored by Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, also adds two legislators to the ORTA board as nonvoting members.

An attempt Wednesday to put a four-year deadline on the agency itself to prove its effectiveness—a "sunset clause"—was defeated 53-45.

"It's a cynic who believes that every new program that we introduce in the House is doomed to failure," Wilkowski said.

His bill was sent to the Senate.

3 Sentenced By Ammer

Danny Michael Phipps, 22, and Paul Chaffin, 35, both of Columbus involved in theft of copper wire from the N&W Railroad were sentenced by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer today.

Chaffin, in addition to grand theft, was charged with disrupting public service, breaking and entering and complicity in receiving stolen property.

He was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary for concurrent terms of one to five, one to five, one to five and one to 10 years. Phipps was charged with disrupting public service, breaking and entering, petty theft. He was sentenced to one to 10 years, six months to five years, and six months, all to be served consecutively at Mansfield reformatory.

The two pleaded guilty to all charges.

Robert T. Aldenderfer, 18, Columbus, charged with trafficking in drugs entered a plea of guilty to a reduced charge involving the amount of drugs.

He was sentenced to 19 months to 10 years in Mansfield. Judge Ammer noted that under Ohio law, Aldenderfer will not be eligible to be considered for probation or parole until he has served at least 18 months.

Jerry Allen Stone, Columbus, who was indicted at the same time as Aldenderfer, did not appear. Judge ordered bond forfeited and a capias issued for Stone's arrest.

James Kingsley, Pickaway County Prosecutor, represented the state in the cases.

Farmer's Union Opposes Beef Checkoff

The Ohio Farmers Union Full Board of Directors met in Bellefontaine, June 11 and urged cattle producers to register at their local ASCS offices June 6-17 so they can participate in the July 5-15 voting on the proposed national beef check-off program.

The board said all cattlemen have a big stake in the outcome of the beef referendum because if it passes they will pay 30 cents out of every $100 worth of cattle they sell.

This will raise nationally some $35-$40 million each year, the board said, but the program carries no promise that it will increase profits for cattle producers. The board noted that the checkoff program has no provisions to deal with overproduction of cattle, inflation, meat imports or other factors that have reduced cattlemen's profits in recent years.

"We hear the promoters of this program say that advertising and promotion will sell more beef," the board said, "but we think there is no point in selling more beef if the price is too low."

The board said that if the U.S. economy continues to improve and the unemployment rate drops, then consumers will have more money in their pockets to spend for such products as beef.

This development would have a lot more to do with increasing beef sales than millions spent for advertising, the board concluded.

Irish Vote; Close Race Predicted

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Prime Minister Liam Cosgrave's Fine Gael-Labor coalition was given a slight edge as Irish voters went to the polls today to elect a government to face rampant economic woes and the guerrilla war next door in Northern Ireland.

A tight race was predicted, but most commentators expected Cosgrave's forces to nose out Jack Lynch's Fianna Fail and become the first government in Irish history to win re-election.

Fine Gael, "Family of the Irish" in Gaelic, and Fianna Fail, "Soldiers of Destiny," have opposed each other since the 1920-1923 civil war. Fine Gael won the 1973 election and with its allied Laborites had a four-vote majority in the last 148-seat Dail, the lower house of parliament.

The three-week campaign by a record 375 candidates began by focusing on inflation and unemployment. Prices have been rising at an annual rate of 16 per cent and the government puts the jobless total at 116,000, one of every 10 in the work force. Both factions promised to cut taxation and provide other economic windfalls.

In the final days of wooing the 2.1 million voters, Cosgrave's party raised the issue of the Irish Republican Army and its guerrillas fighting to drive the British from Protestant-dominated Northern Ireland and unite it with the Roman Catholic republic.

Clevenger Speaks To Special Children Group

Jay Clevenger, administrator of the Pickaway County Mental Retardation Program, spoke at the monthly meeting of Special Children Monday.

He told of the total program for mental health and retardation in Pickaway County. It includes infant stimulation, a home program for development problems; the pre school for developmental disabilities; the Brooks-Yates School, which includes courses in self-reliant apartment living; the Sheltered Workshop, where adults do contract work, pottery, and hand crafts; and the home visitation program for shut-ins.

Clevenger showed slides to accompany the information. Following questions and discussion, the business meeting was held.

Karen Peters consented to be secretary of the group. All participants of Handicap Awareness Week were thanked. It was noted that the group is in need of a typewriter that will cut a good stencil.

Interesting programs are planned through November. On July 11, the teachers of the intensive instruction classes will talk on consistency at home as an aid to the progress of the child. A family picnic is planned for Aug. 8. Contact Cookie Taylor, 474-2014 for information.

A swimming program for children with learning problems will begin June 30. For information call 474-1701. A story hour for special children will be given at the Pickaway County Library 10 a.m. June 29.

The next meeting is planned for July 11.

Presort First Class Mail Program Offers Savings

Many commercial mailers have achieved significant savings and at the same time helped post offices process their mailings by taking advantage of a simple workshare program, the U.S. Postal Service said today.

The program, called Presort First-Class Mail, offers mailers a one cent per piece lower rate on all presorted first-class mail meeting certain requirements. The Postal Service has handled more than one billion pieces under the program.

The Postal Service estimates participating mailers have saved more than $10 million since the program began in July, 1976.

To qualify for the lower rate, there must be at least 500 pieces in the mailing. The mailer must presort the mailing to five digit ZIP Codes whenever there are 10 or more pieces having the same ZIP Code. After presorting as much as possible to five digits, the mailer must then presort the remaining mail to three digits whenever there are 50 or more pieces.

The Postal Service provides necessary trays and the mailer bundles and packages the mailing for delivery to the post office. Each piece must be printed or stamped with the words, "Presorted First Class." Payment for postage is made by postage meter or permit imprint.

Postmasters set local requirements for acceptance hours and deposit points, but in general want the mail deposited between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

In addition to the lower rate for each piece presorted by ZIP Codes to five and three digits, customers benefit by establishing their mailing lists in ZIP sequence. Once a list is sequenced by ZIP Code, mailers can better schedule mailings for uniform delivery and also isolate customers geographically, such as types of residential areas, for other communication purposes.

The Postal Service benefits because presorted mail bypasses many handling operations and is already sequenced by ZIP Code. This helps assure consistent and reliable first-class mail service.

Customers likely to take advantage of presort savings include utilities, retailers, oil companies, publishers, banks and credit card companies, stock brokers, insurance firms and also Federal, state and local government agencies.

Details on the Presort First-Class Mail program are available from postmasters or postal customer service representatives, the Postal Service said.

Blue Lancers Place In State Competition

The Blue Lancers Baton and Drum Corps of Circleville, under the direction of Elaine Lloyd, received two second place awards and one first place award in the "Ohio State NBTA 1977 Corps Championships" held June 12th at Lancaster High School, Lancaster.

The Corps was entered in the military corps event and the parade corps event. Requirements for both categories are different and total performance time also differs. Many rules and regulations are designed for each of the five categories which can be entered. The Blue Lancers placed second in military and parade corps division and their drum section placed first in senior drum ensemble.

The state corps titles for each division will not be claimed until the November contest to be held in Stow, Ohio. The Blue Lancers will be making minor adjustments to their shows with hopes of claiming the state title in their divisions in the fall.

Director Elaine Lloyd was very pleased with the groups performances and their score sheets had improved remarkably. The contest corps consists of 26 of the 62 regular corps members. Those participating in the state contest were: R. Connell, K. Harris, J. Harris, B. Hindy, L. Schleich, B. Hindy, S. Knece, M. Honeycutt, D. Hoover, D. Lemley, A. Ross, L. Haddox, D. Pennington, as twirlers. C. Smalley, S. Bowling, T. Bost, M. McNaughton, C. Nungester and J. Harris as color guard. J. Garrett, W. Rhodes, D. Rossiter, B. Erwin, M. Seaton and S. Glasgow as drum section.

Juvenile Detention Center Gets Grant

Gov. James A. Rhodes has announced approval of a $31,667 grant to Ross, Pickaway, Pike, Vinton, Jackson and Highland counties for a regional detention center for delinquent or unruly juveniles providing educational, recreational and group services rehabilitation.

The grant will be supplemented locally with $29,443.

The State of Ohio awarded the grant under the federally approved provisions of Ohio's $19.6 million Comprehensive Criminal Justice Plan for 1977.

3 Sentenced By Ammer

Danny Michael Phipps, 22, and Paul Chaffin, 35, both of Columbus involved in theft of copper wire from the N&W Railroad were sentenced by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer today.

Chaffin, in addition to grand theft, was charged with disrupting public service, breaking and entering and complicity in receiving stolen property.

He was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary for concurrent terms of one to five, one to five, one to five and one to 10 years. Phipps was charged with disrupting public service, breaking and entering, petty theft. He was sentenced to one to 10 years, six months to five years, and six months, all to be served consecutively at Mansfield reformatory.

The two pleaded guilty to all charges.

Robert T. Aldenderfer, 18, Columbus, charged with trafficking in drugs entered a plea of guilty to a reduced charge involving the amount of drugs.

He was sentenced to 19 months to 10 years in Mansfield. Judge Ammer noted that under Ohio law, Aldenderfer will not be eligible to be considered for probation or parole until he has served at least 18 months.

Jerry Allen Stone, Columbus, who was indicted at the same time as Aldenderfer, did not appear. Judge ordered bond forfeited and a capias issued for Stone's arrest.

James Kingsley, Pickaway County Prosecutor, represented the state in the cases.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

No Experience Necessary

DEAR ABBY: You never gave worse advice than when you told that 20-year-old theology student to go ahead and get married without getting any premarital sexual experience. You said the mating instinct was natural, and he didn't need any lessons.

Well, mating and lovemaking are two different things. Any animal can mate, but lovemaking is an art that requires instruction and practice to perfect.

For a man to jump into the marriage bed without previous experience (assuming his bride is as innocent as he is), could result in disaster! It could ruin their marriage and their relationship.

It is a crime that you, with your old-fashioned moral values, are giving advice to millions.

MODERN MAN

Rule Suicide In Death Of Woman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Suicide by carbon monoxide poisoning has been ruled as the cause of death of a 25-year-old aide to a state legislative leader, according to the Franklin County coroner's office.

The body of Carol Pychewicz was found Monday in a car parked with the motor running in the garage of the woman's home here, police said. The garage door was closed.

Mrs. Pychewicz, who was found by her husband and brother, suffered from cancer and was a proponent of the drug laetrile. She was not incapacitated and worked regular hours as secretary to Rep. Patrick A. Sweeney of Cleveland, the assistant House majority floor leader.

It was at her urging that Sweeney introduced legislation to legalize laetrile in Ohio, despite the federal ban. Mrs. Pychewicz took part in hearings on the measure, which was scheduled today for a third session in the House Health and Retirement Committee.

Mrs. Pychewicz was survived by her husband, Greg, a daughter, Michelle, her parents, and three brothers and three sisters.

A funeral mass was set for Thursday at St. James the Less Church.

Physicians Given Excellent Marks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohio State University professors report 87 per cent of the people included in a recent study say their physicians provide excellent or good health care.

Dr. Roger Blackwell and Dr. Wayne Talarzyk said the study involved 1,500 Ohioans chosen at random and questioned on how they selected and evaluated their doctors.

DEAR MODERN: Call it "mating" or "lovemaking" or whatever your wish, it's the same act. A truly kind, loving, unselfish man does not need to be taught tenderness and consideration. That will come as naturally as the mating instinct. Almost every church has premarital counseling, and there are some excellent manuals on the subject.

Read on for another point of view: DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling that young man that it wasn't necessary for him to rush out and get sexual experience before marrying.

When my wife and I were married, we were both virgins. Somehow we managed to learn together. We have been married for 22 years and have three children, and may I say that we have a fantastic sex life. There is something especially reassuring and sacred about our relationship, knowing that each has always been totally and exclusively committed to each other.

DUKE

And yet another: DEAR ABBY: Talk about two dumb kids: My husband and I were about as inexperienced as two people could be. He was 20 and I was 17 when we married. That was 66 years ago, and now we can look back and smile, because we figured out exactly what had to be done and how to do it, and we may have invented a few things, for all we know. And by the way, we may have slowed up a bit of late, but we haven't given up entirely.

R. AND J.

DEAR ABBY: In listing West Virginia's most distinguished natives, you omitted probably the most distinguished of all: U.S. Senator Jennings Randolph, who has served in Congress (both the House and Senate) longer than any other elected official presently there.

JOHN D. MONTGOMERY
DEAR MR. M.: Thanks for reminding me of something I already knew.

Highway Budget Receives Panel OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The House Finance Committee approved 11-8 today a $1.5 billion budget for the departments of transportation and highway safety.

The bill, separated from the main budget because of the unique funding of the two agencies, will go to the House floor for a vote next week, according to Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville.

A key amendment would require the director of transportation to win approval from the state Controlling Board, before going ahead with extra cost change orders on highway projects.

The amendment was softened after Transportation Director David L. Weir warned that it would "result in the frequent stopping of a large number of projects for Controlling Board approval."

"To the extent that the contractor cannot employ his manpower and equipment on other bid items, then delay costs will result in additional extra work contracts and— or court claims which will be liabilities of the state," Weir said.

Subsequently, an amendment to the amendment authorized Weir to approve change orders independently, when health or safety are a factor, "or if increased costs will result by delays in entering into a contract."

The other controversial section of the bill involved a $7.2 million cut in the proposed budget for the Department of Highway Safety.

Rep. Waldo Bennett Rose, R-64 Lima, one of eight Republicans voting against the bill said, "generally, the transportation side of the budget is well done."

But Rose said the pairing of the highway safety appropriation could cause, "a critical situation." Rose said the operation of the Highway Patrol and Bureau of Motor Vehicles at adequate levels would be threatened by the proposed funding.

The Highway Safety budget was cut because of political opposition to Gov. James A. Rhodes use of the highway patrol for investigations that do not involve highway safety matters.

"The governor can use the patrol any way he wants, and I don't think that's appropriate," said Rep. George D. Tablac, D-52 Campbell.

Slovik Widow Seeks Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon faces a lonely product of war today in Antoinette Slovik, indigent widow of the only American soldier to be shot for desertion in this century.

Mrs. Slovik, crippled and 62, seeks $68,000 — payment plus interest on the National Service Life Insurance policy once held by her late husband, Pvt. Eddie Slovik.

Slovik confessed to fleeing combat twice during World War II and was executed by firing squad in France on Jan. 31, 1945. Mrs. Slovik has fought for 32 years to get the case reopened.

She presents her arguments today to the Army Board for the Correction of Military Records, a panel of five civilian Defense Department employees.

Mrs. Slovik's case is at the top of the board's docket. The board votes in secret session when the hearing ends late today and the verdict will be announced in three to four weeks.

"I'm very optimistic," Mrs. Slovik said prior to the hearing. "I know we're going to win."

It is not the first time Mrs. Slovik has dealt with the Pentagon.

New Zealand is about 1,200 miles east of southern Australia, across the Tasman Sea.

The amendment was softened after Transportation Director David L. Weir warned that it would "result in the frequent stopping of a large number of projects for Controlling Board approval."

"To the extent that the contractor cannot employ his manpower and equipment on other bid items, then delay costs will result in additional extra work contracts and— or court claims which will be liabilities of the state," Weir said.

Subsequently, an amendment to the amendment authorized Weir to approve change orders independently, when health or safety are a factor, "or if increased costs will result by delays in entering into a contract."

The other controversial section of the bill involved a $7.2 million cut in the proposed budget for the Department of Highway Safety.

Rep. Waldo Bennett Rose, R-64 Lima, one of eight Republicans voting against the bill said, "generally, the transportation side of the budget is well done."

But Rose said the pairing of the highway safety appropriation could cause, "a critical situation." Rose said the operation of the Highway Patrol and Bureau of Motor Vehicles at adequate levels would be threatened by the proposed funding.

The Highway Safety budget was cut because of political opposition to Gov. James A. Rhodes use of the highway patrol for investigations that do not involve highway safety matters.

"The governor can use the patrol any way he wants, and I don't think that's appropriate," said Rep. George D. Tablac, D-52 Campbell.

Slovik Widow Seeks Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon faces a lonely product of war today in Antoinette Slovik, indigent widow of the only American soldier to be shot for desertion in this century.

Mrs. Slovik, crippled and 62, seeks $68,000 — payment plus interest on the National Service Life Insurance policy once held by her late husband, Pvt. Eddie Slovik.

Slovik confessed to fleeing combat twice during World War II and was executed by firing squad in France on Jan. 31, 1945. Mrs. Slovik has fought for 32 years to get the case reopened.

She presents her arguments today to the Army Board for the Correction of Military Records, a panel of five civilian Defense Department employees.

Mrs. Slovik's case is at the top of the board's docket. The board votes in secret session when the hearing ends late today and the verdict will be announced in three to four weeks.

"I'm very optimistic," Mrs. Slovik said prior to the hearing. "I know we're going to win."

It is not the first time Mrs. Slovik has dealt with the Pentagon.

New Zealand is about 1,200 miles east of southern Australia, across the Tasman Sea.

Taxing Employment

Some politicians talk a good line about helping the nation solve its problems, all the while supporting the same old policies which created the problems. Unemployment and job creation are among the favorite and abused subjects. Not a public officeholder can be found who is in favor of unemployment or opposed to the creation of jobs. Not in theory, at least, but why then is the employer who is the one who will have to create the new jobs so often singled out for attack by these same politicians?

Payroll taxes are just as much a part of an employer's labor costs as the man on the assembly line. The difference, of course, is the employer earns nothing for his tax expenditures and the money thus spent cannot be used to create new jobs. A study by the Senate Budget Committee has found that payroll taxes levied on the employer have more than doubled since 1970. Almost two centuries were required to reach the tax level of 1970, but in seven more years that burden has more than doubled. Payroll taxes (federal only per employee averaged $426 in 1972. The average had climbed to $1,021 in 1976 and is estimated at $1,460 by 1980. The Carter administration would like to see that average climb faster by boosting employer Social Security taxes considerably. When added to such other employer burdens as elevations in the minimum wage, payroll taxes act as an employment brake at a time when a little more acceleration would be useful.

Music Hath Little Charm

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — Currently, on Broadway, there are 19 musicals, employing hundreds of people. By contrast, there are only 10 dramas, with considerably smaller casts. Obviously, musicals offer more outlets for creative artists than straight plays do. And yet, curiously, almost none of the Drama Departments in American colleges and universities specializes in training students in the preparation, production or performance of theatrical musicals. Drama Departments "traditionally consider musicals enormously frivolous," according to Tom Jones who, with Harvey Schmidt, wrote such long-running delights as "The Fantasticks" and "I Do, I Do" and the more recent "Colette." Jones and Schmidt spent their student days at the University of Texas, which had an excellent Drama school, "and we presented a total of 120 productions," Jones reminisced — "not one of them with music. There never were any courses in writing music for the theatre. If we wanted to do a musical, we had to write the material ourselves, from our own instincts, and in our own free time." In an interview, Tom found it odd that colleges feel reluctant about music-drama, in view of the fact that historically, musicals "offer potential to present greater drama than straight plays. 'Fiddler on the Roof' is a perfect example. It is more emotionally moving than a simple dramatic version of the story would be. At least, that's the way I feel. 'Furthermore, when a theatre musical is successful, it is whoppingly important to the personnel who have chosen the stage as a profession. Because plays are rarely revived, but good musicals have constant revivals. And they employ generally larger casts than dramas." With no scholastic training, composers like Jones and Schmidt still managed to produce "Fantasticks," the longest-lived (still running in its 18th year) of all American stage productions. Harvey Schmidt composes the music "by ear," and then calls in an arranger to put it down, note by note, on paper. Tom Jones described his lyric writing as fascinating drudgery: "You sit down and try variations of every possible sound until your mind shatters, and then you go on to another insoluble problem. There was a simple little song in 'I Do, I Do,' titled 'My Cup Runneth Over (With Love).' I spent seven months writing the lyrics to that. Know why? Because once you get into the word 'love,' you find there are only about four words that rhyme with it... 'shove,' which is rather nasty; 'dove,' which is impossible; 'of' and 'above.'"

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Some highly significant events in recent weeks have heartened inflation fighters, who for months and years have relied heavily on hope and on promises that couldn't be kept. Most significant perhaps has been the pronounced downturn in world commodity prices, which had risen steadily through the winter and into the early part of spring. Prices of commodities for future delivery also have been weakening in recent weeks, adding to the feeling that a fundamental change is occurring in the prices of raw materials. At the beginning of this week, prices of almost all food futures — corn, wheat, cocoa, livestock, coffee and the like — fell simultaneously, along with cotton, wood, precious metals and other items. The good news already is being reflected in wholesale prices. The official index of such prices rose only fourtenths of 1 per cent in May, after having leaped more than 1 per cent in each of the two preceding months. At the same time, productivity is rising. The first-quarter increase was a sizable 4.7 per cent, much higher than the long-term average, despite some of the century's most unfavorable production weather. Productivity increases indicate a growing level of efficiency in the use of men, machinery and capital, and therefore are the most potent of all anti-inflationary events. Unexpectedly, good news came also in the form of lower interest rates. Citibank, the nation's second largest commercial bank, declined to raise its prime rate when its own formula called for it. Morgan Guaranty did it one better a few days later by lowering its rate one-quarter per cent to 6.5 per cent. The two events followed criticism last week by Bert Lance, director of the Office of Budget and Management. Lance said earlier rate increases were uncalled for, and asked the banks to exercise restraint. Whether the moves by Citibank and Morgan were in response to Lance's request, or simply in response to market conditions, the effect was the same — to lower the cost of doing business. Several other factors can be included in the increasingly bright assessment: prices of imported oil seem to have been stabilized for the rest of the year, the crop outlook is good and wage demands have been moderate. If the outlook remains bright — and some bank economists are forecasting that consumer prices will fall to an inflation rate of only 5.5 per cent in the second half of the year — the stock market could be a beneficiary. Perhaps the most common complaint of stock analysts has been inflation, or the fear of inflation growing worse and taking interest rates along on the ride. These two factors — inflation and high interest rates — strike fear into investors and send them rushing from equities into the fixed return of debt securities, such as bonds. Remove the fear and investors might return. But the consequences wouldn't be limited. Lower inflation might have an effect on employment, budget deficits, the balance of trade imbalance and a host of other economic ingredients.

Speaking Of Your Health

Many of my readers write about the high cost of hospitalization and the rising cost of doctors' fees. I fully appreciate their concern, because a major illness has become a "luxury" that few people can afford. In fact, unless one is covered by some form of insurance, a major illness can wipe out the life savings of a family. The patient may recuperate from the illness, but sometimes will never completely recover from the massive deficit of the finances. As occupied as physicians are with the health of their patients, many are not aware of the overwhelming cost of a hospital stay. Recently, I was making a telephone call in the admitting room of my hospital and, for the first time, saw on the bulletin board the exact cost of a five-day stay in the hospital. So shocked and disbelieving was I at the amount that I asked the admitting clerk if the figures were correct. She looked at me with an expression that said, "Where have you been and why does this come as a surprise to you?" The cost of running a hospital is simple overwhelming. There is no way to cut corners and still maintain the efficiency and high standards by which a hospital is gauged. A recent news release pointed out that physicians' fees have, indeed, been rising rapidly. It stated "Yet their fees have not been rising as rapidly as their business expenses. And physicians' incomes per patient visit have not risen as much as the cost of living." The report continues: "Between 1971 and 1974, physicians' fees rose substantially less rapidly than the overall cost of living, up about 5.1 per cent a year for physicians' fees, and 6.1 per cent for the Consumer Price Index." Of course, this report is an all-over, generalized one. It does not specifically encompass each individual physician everywhere. It's reasonable to assume that there are variations, depending on the geographic area, the size of the city, the wages of nurses and assistants, the cost of office rent and other business expenses. I must point out that in my own personal experience I have rarely known a doctor or surgeon who has failed to give medical treatment to anyone who could not afford his standard fee. Most physicians will reduce their fees in special instances. Again, this is my personal experience. It may not be universal with all doctors everywhere.

Methodists Rap Lottery

LAKEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Delegates to the West Ohio United Methodist Conference adopted a resolution Tuesday opposing the state's instant lottery game. The Methodists, who traditionally are against all forms of gambling, voted during the first general session of the 3 1/2-day meeting to urge lawmakers in Columbus to vote for pending legislation which would ban the game. In other action, the conference resolved to urge congressmen to fully fund a food reserve to combat famine wherever it exists. The matter won unanimous support of the 2,736 voting delegates at the annual meeting. The resolution calls upon Congress to "support full funding for international hunger and development assistance, whereby $2 billion of our federal budget be set aside to build grain and other food reserves to combat international famine." World hunger is one of three priorities the denomination is devoting its efforts towards during the next four years. The conference's section on world peace received strong support for a proposal to commend President Carter for his declared intention to seek an end to nuclear testing and development. On April 14, 1932, a gas explosion in the unfinished State Office Building on Front Street in Columbus killed 11 workmen and injured 50 others.—AP

Dear Editor:
As my year in Circleville as an American Field Service student is ending I would like to thank all those who have made it such a memorable one. I spent most of my time at Circleville High School which I enjoyed immensely. It is a school many can be proud to say they went to because of its relaxed atmosphere. The teachers and students were friendly and welcoming to me, a stranger. To those who have supported AFS I have for them a special thanks because they made it possible for me to be here and for those to follow. I hope that AFS can reach many more people this way. There were many people who included me in family get-togethers and outings. I thank them because I was here to experience the American way of life, and how better than with the family. To my friends and family, all I can say is that I'll never forget them or what they have done for me. Sincerely, SUSAN RUSH AFS Exchange Student Timari, New Zealand

Because once you get into the word 'love,' you find there are only about four words that rhyme with it... 'shove,' which is rather nasty; 'dove,' which is impossible; 'of' and 'above.' "It's very tough, unless you're a born Oscar Hammerstein and very clever and come up with a line like 'Give me my rose and my glove.' " Peter Nero, the class-jazz pianist, is another professional who laments the disinterest of the educational world in music. In schools, music is at best an optional field of study, open only to the students with enough drive and ability to fit courses into their schedule; Nero feels it should be open to everyone, at early grade levels, and be mandatory. If the University of Texas had taught musical theatre writing, "I might have produced that lyric in six months tops," Jones estimated. "If every child were brought up to love music," Nero believes, "the present youth generation would grow into a generation of sensitive, sensible adults." The music needn't be classical. Youngsters like the going "beat," and the youngster who likes rock generally matures into a youngster who appreciates jazz; and one who appreciates jazz often explodes into a young adult who enjoys all forms of sound. Even the classics. Music courses should be offered at schools, he feels strongly. Alfred Wallenstein, the American orchestra conductor, went even further: "I've always felt it so necessary for children, from third grade through at least high school, to have a continuing curriculum of music available to any child who is interested — and almost every child is. "Such a curriculum could be established very quickly in schools around the country if parents demanded not only the three R's, but also culture. A rudimentary knowledge of the arts is every bit as important to human happiness as learning how to read." Yet, despite the obvious — people are instinctively drawn to music, and are made happier by it — it remains largely ignored in the American educational system. "A shame, terrible oversight," concluded Peter Nero. "Music training is a source of never-failing relaxation, fun, inspiration and a respect for discipline — all in one. The person who is at home with music has made himself a beautiful world which, as he grows older, will always be with him."

LAFF - A - DAY

"Oh, everything's about the same. How about you?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Many of my readers write about the high cost of hospitalization and the rising cost of doctors' fees. I fully appreciate their concern, because a major illness has become a "luxury" that few people can afford.

In fact, unless one is covered by some form of insurance, a major illness can wipe out the life savings of a family. The patient may recuperate from the illness, but sometimes will never completely recover from the massive deficit of the finances.

As occupied as physicians are with the health of their patients, many are not aware of the overwhelming cost of a hospital stay.

Recently, I was making a telephone call in the admitting room of my hospital and, for the first time, saw on the bulletin board the exact cost of a five-day stay in the hospital. So shocked and disbelieving was I at the amount that I asked the admitting clerk if the figures were correct. She looked at me with an expression that said, "Where have you been and why does this come as a surprise to you?"

The cost of running a hospital is simple overwhelming. There is no way to cut corners and still maintain the efficiency and high standards by which a hospital is gauged.

A recent news release pointed out

Methodists Rap Lottery

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP) — Delegates to the West Ohio United Methodist Conference adopted a resolution Tuesday opposing the state's instant lottery game.

The Methodists, who traditionally are against all forms of gambling, voted during the first general session of the 3 1/2-day meeting to urge lawmakers in Columbus to vote for pending legislation which would ban the game.

In other action, the conference resolved to urge congressmen to fully fund a food reserve to combat famine wherever it exists.

The matter won unanimous support of the 2,736 voting delegates at the annual meeting.

The resolution calls upon Congress to "support full funding for international hunger and development assistance, whereby $2 billion of our federal budget be set aside to build grain and other food reserves to combat international famine."

World hunger is one of three priorities the denomination is devoting its efforts towards during the next four years.

The conference's section on world peace received strong support for a proposal to commend President Carter for his declared intention to seek an end to nuclear testing and development.

On April 14, 1932, a gas explosion in the unfinished State Office Building on Front Street in Columbus killed 11 workmen and injured 50 others.—AP

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:
As my year in Circleville as an American Field Service student is ending I would like to thank all those who have made it such a memorable one.

I spent most of my time at Circleville High School which I enjoyed immensely. It is a school many can be proud to say they went to because of its relaxed atmosphere. The teachers and students were friendly and welcoming to me, a stranger.

To those who have supported AFS I have for them a special thanks because they made it possible for me to be here and for those to follow. I hope that AFS can reach many more people this way.

There were many people who included me in family get-togethers and outings. I thank them because I was here to experience the American way of life, and how better than with the family.

To my friends and family, all I can say is that I'll never forget them or what they have done for me.

Sincerely,
SUSAN RUSH

Glenn Applauds Aid Ban Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, said an amendment sponsored by him and passed by the Senate Wednesday leaves no doubt that "the administration and the Senate stand together in opposing aid to Laos, Vietnam and Cambodia."

In addition to ruling out foreign aid of any kind to the three countries, Glenn's amendment specifically forbids any reparations such as Hanoi recently indicated had been promised by former President Richard M. Nixon.

The proposal was in the form of an amendment to the pending International Development Assistance Act.

"There is no reason imaginable why the U.S. should send foreign aid to any of those countries," said Glenn, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"The cruel way that they have deliberately used the missing in action to seek concessions by the United States shows a callous disregard for basic human rights and the terms of our peace accord," he added.

Pipeline Proves No Bed Of Roses

VALDEZ, Alaska (AP) — Three years ago Herb Lehfelt was worried that the trans-Alaska pipeline might swallow up his town.

Valdez survived the construction boom, but problems did accompany its growth from 1,100 people to almost 10,000 in just over two years, and there are still arguments between old and new residents over the direction the town will take.

In 1974, neither Lehfelt, then city manager, nor then-mayor Emil Wegner could see how the pipeline would benefit Valdez at all.

Woman Hurt In Accident

Kimberly R. Parmer, 20, 27710 Caldwell Road, was injured in a 1 p.m. Wednesday car crash on Hayesville Road.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Terry Frazier said Ms. Parmer suffered lacerations and abrasions to both legs and back and neck injuries in the accident.

Deputy Frazier said Ms. Parmer was driving on Hayesville Road, two-tenths of a mile southeast of Caldwell Road, and had passed through a left curve when her car dropped off the right side.

The vehicle traveled 250 along a ditch on the right, skidded 54 feet across the road, and 20 feet into a ditch and fence on the left side.

City officials were worried that the boom would bring increasing crime, overtaxing of schools and other facilities and soaring inflation — it was already expensive to live here with $1-a-loaf bread a fact of life.

Until the pipeline came, tourism and the state highway department were the big employers. The town, on an ice-free harbor ringed by mountains towering up to 6,000 feet, was famous for its breathtaking surroundings, with several glaciers nearby.

But the deep waters that drew tourists also caught the attention of the oil companies when it was decided to build a pipeline south from Prudhoe Bay, 800 miles to the north. A large port facility for supertankers is nearing completion several miles along the bay.

Oil is expected to begin arriving there 30 to 45 days after it first enters the pipe this coming Monday at Prudhoe Bay.

Lehfelt says things worked out better than expected because "the type of people we received were family people who treated the town real well."

University of Alaska researchers found that most of the construction workers shared the same goals as the townspeople. Also contrary to expectations, most workers saved their $1,000-plus-a-week pay checks instead of spending them on prostitutes and gambling.

But still, "it wasn't a bed of roses," Wegner says emphatically. "A lot of people got hurt, especially people on fixed incomes."

CANNON OPERATOR — Norma Matthews, who plays Mrs. Galloway in "Tecumseh!", also operates one of the authentic cannons during the fight scene. She said Producer-Director W. L. Mundell, has put females from the cast in charge of the cannons, because they don't tend to get as careless as male cast members. It could be a dangerous job if the operators aren't careful. Ms. Matthews is a theatre major at Cleveland State University. In "Tecumseh!" she is the wife of James Galloway, who is played by Steve Stevenson of Circleville.

Milburn-Stevens Vows Read In St. Joseph's Church

MR. AND MRS. JOHN A. STEVENS

St. Joseph's Catholic Church was the setting for the 11:30 a.m., May 21 wedding ceremony of Miss Catherine A. Milburn and Mr. John A. Stevens. Father Frank J. Meagher officiated at the double ring mass uniting the daughter of Mr. Robert Milburn, 323 Meadow Lane, and the late Mrs. Milburn. Mr. Stevens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stevens, 565 Ridgewood Drive.

The altar was adorned with candelabra and flanked with peach, yellow and white vase arrangements. The prenuptial selections were provided by four guitarists.

The bride was given in marriage and approached the altar on the arm of her father. She chose an ivory formal length gown of qiana. The empire line gown trimmed with silk venise lace, with attached chapel length train featured a keyhole neckline with brussels lace, with capped sleeves with venise lace. She selected a matching hat trimmed with silk venise lace, with a finger tip veil. Her flowers were of the cascade style with varigated ivy, peach colored sweetheart roses and white mums and stephanotis.

Miss Ann Frericks was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Milburn, and Miss Donna Milburn, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Kim McGuire.

Mr. Scott Bowman performed the duties of best man. Ushers were Mr. Chuck Stevens, Mr. Mick Stevens, brothers of the bridegroom, and Mr. Tom Green.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Pickaway Arms. The punch table was adorned with the four tier peach colored wedding cake with white decorations, and topped with a bride and groom.

Hostesses were Miss Vicki Marshall, Mrs. Eileen Husky, Miss Cindy Hughes, and Mrs. Mary Voorhis.

The bride is a graduate of Circleville High School and is currently employed by City National Bank, Columbus.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Circleville High School and Lincoln Technical School and is presently employed at W. W. Williams, Columbus.

The couple will reside at 3485 Wilson Woods Dr., Columbus.

Newsman Questioned By Russians

MOSCOW (AP) — The KGB widened its interrogation of American newsman Robert Toth today to his contacts with dissident Anatoly Shcharansky and an article he wrote on secret Soviet installations, the 48-year-old correspondent for the Los Angeles Times reported.

There was speculation that Toth's testimony would be used against Shcharansky and not as the basis for charges against the journalist, who already is scheduled to leave the Soviet Union.

The security police questioned Toth for 2½ hours this morning at Lefortovo prison and told him to return this afternoon for more interrogation. It was his third session with the KGB in four days.

Shcharansky is an active Jewish dissident who was arrested in early March and reportedly is being investigated for treason. He was a source for reports written by Toth and other Western correspondents.

Toth said one such report was his story about secret installations. It suggested that outsiders can guess areas in which classified Soviet research is taking place by noting the location of would-be emigres who are told they cannot leave the country because they have worked at secret installations.

"The information on that was given to me by Shcharansky for the purpose of showing that it's ludicrous to say those institutions were secret," Toth said.

The Soviet government in a note delivered to the U.S. Embassy Monday accused Toth of collecting "secret information of a political and military character." It barred him from leaving the country while he was being investigated.

Ohio Engineer Air Crash Victim

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP) — An Ohio engineer was killed when his single-engine plane crashed while trying to land at the Valdosta airport Monday night, officials said.

Kenneth Karl Ritter of Toledo, Ohio, an employee of Owens-Illinois, which has a plant near Valdosta, was piloting a Piper Cherokee.

He was on his final approach to the airport when the plane disappeared from the radar screen, the Federal Aviation Administration said. It came down in a wooded area short of the runway.

Witnesses said they heard the plane's engine sputtering and coughing as it flew toward the field.

Robb Wins Virginia Primary

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Former Lt. Gov. Henry Howell and Charles Robb, son-in-law of the late President Lyndon Johnson, will head the Democratic ticket in Virginia's elections this fall.

Howell, 56, won the nomination for governor over former Atty. Gen. Andrew Miller, 44, by about the same margin he lost the governor's race in 1973.

Nearly complete vote totals in the governor's race gave Howell 253,681 and Miller 240,058.

Robb, a 37-year-old attorney from McLean in northern Virginia, had a nearly 30,000-vote edge over his nearest opponent in his first bid for public office.

With 99 per cent of the precincts accounted for, Robb had 185,511 votes, compared to 156,119 for state Del. Richard Reynolds III, heir to the Reynolds Metals fortune, and 132,008 for state Del. Ira Lechner.

State Del. Edward Lane of Richmond easily won a four-way race for the nomination for attorney general.

Howell, a liberal, consumer-oriented attorney from the port city of Norfolk, will face Republican Lt. Gov. John Dalton of Radford in the Nov. 8 general election.

Republican nominees were chosen by a party convention.

The winner in November will succeed Gov. Mills Godwin, a man who had the distinction of serving as a Democratic governor from 1966 to 1970 and returning in 1974 as a Republican.

Robb was the glamor candidate in the contest for the No. 2 spot on the ticket. He was joined frequently on the campaign trail by his wife, Lynda Bird, and his mother-in-law, Lady Bird.

Carter Finds Old Ways Die Hard

WASHINGTON (AP) — As President Carter contemplates federal reorganization, he can look to his own White House correspondence section for graphic evidence that old ways of doing things die hard.

A few months back, for example, Carter aides decided there was little point in continuing a long-established, and costly, program of sending presidential birthday greetings on request to any citizen age 80 or older. As a result, the age requirement was upped to 100.

Without announcement, the White House has returned to the old system. "We did not correctly calculate the widespread knowledge of this policy," conceded staff assistant Valerio Giannini in an interview. "We knew that it was an established policy, but it seems the world out there knows about it and has become very, very accustomed to it."

Protests about the jump to age 100 were convincingly numerous. Many who wrote in to complain conveyed such sentiments as: "I have letters from three prior Presidents, and what's wrong with Jimmy Carter?"

So the White House once again is sending printed greeting cards, but not letters, to citizens 80 or older in response to individual requests.

At this time of year, the flow of outgoing mail is boosted further by the dispatching of presidential greetings to high school and college graduates. An individual request will bring a graduate a printed card, topped by the presidential seal in gold, that reads:

"Rosalynn and I congratulate you on your graduation. We know your family and friends share in your happiness on this special occasion, and we wish you every success in the years ahead."

A printed facsimile of Carter's signature is on the card, of which some 6,000 have been mailed to date.

The President not only regained a wife when Mrs. Carter returned from Latin America, but also many top members of his Secret Service bodyguard force.

Every presidential bodyguard with a working knowledge of Spanish was assigned to accompany the First Lady. In addition, Richard Keiser, the head of the Secret Service detail at the White House, joined Mrs. Carter's entourage shortly after the start of her trip.

Also back at the White House, after an absence of nearly a month, is Grits, the mongrel pup — mostly springer spaniel — given to 9-year-old Amy Carter by Verona Meeder, her fourth grade teacher at Stevens Elementary School here.

Grits, born on election day, was sent to an undisclosed kennel in the Virginia suburbs for obedience training. After several weeks of attendance at three classes a day, Grits now responds to such commands as: sit, heel, come, stay.

Amy, who plays with the dog about once a day, had to spend part of a day at the kennel mastering hand signals that accompany the commands.

Laetrile Useless, Study Finds

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A four-year study of the supposed cancer treatment Laetrile showed it has no effect in preventing or curing cancer, the Buffalo Evening News reported.

The newspaper said Tuesday that the study, to be released today, was conducted in New York City by scientists at the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center and the Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens.

Proponents of Laetrile have charged a coverup of early Sloan-Kettering studies which they claim showed that the substance prevented the spread of cancer.

The study reportedly says the coverup charges were baseless and were made by "those who either were unaware of, or chose to ignore, the existence of negative results," the newspaper said.

A spokesman at Sloan-Kettering said a member of the staff, Dr. Kanematsu Sugiura, still believes that his initial studies in 1972-1973 show Laetrile has a "palliative" effect, meaning it eases the burden of cancer without curing it.

The federal Food and Drug Administration has banned Laetrile on grounds that it has not been proven useful in treating or preventing cancer. However, it is available in several other countries, most notably Mexico.

Eight states have acted to legalize Laetrile within their own boundaries.

Education Completed As Man Reaches 81

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ernest Miller quoted a Hindu philosopher to explain his part of his determination to complete his doctorate in education at the age of 81.

"I would leave you with one thought," he said, glancing at his fellow graduates at the University of Cincinnati. Few of them were born, nor were many of the faculty, when he began his quest in 1933.

Quoting from the philosopher Tagore, he said, "Education is precious to us because we never have the time to complete it."

When he started working toward the degree he already had 20 years experience as a teacher, principal, basketball coach, teaching supervisor and superintendent.

On Sunday he was the oldest of almost 5,000 persons to receive degrees during graduation ceremonies.

Miller began teaching at age 17 in a one-room country school in Waterloo, Ohio.

"The same kids I was running with one day I was teaching the next," Miller recalled.

Miller retired at age 72, after 10 years of teaching English at North Dearborn, Ind., High School.

"Those were my happiest days. They were great kids," he said.

His 55-year teaching career went from rural southeastern Ohio to Mansfield, Ohio, to Wittenberg College and then to Defiance College as dean of men.

While pursuing a masters degree at the University of Kentucky, he taught English and coached football at Kentucky Wesleyan College.

He had completed the written and oral examinations and all the course work for his doctoral degree except the theses when the U.S. government sent him to Japan as a principal of a school for American dependents in Kyoto.

His doctorate was based upon his experiences there. Before he left Japan, several of its officials wrote urging that Miller stay longer.

"We believe that the seeds you have sown in the Japanese minds will grow and bloom in the near future and help toward the democratization of Japan and peace in the world," said Osuna Fuwa, superintendent of Kyoto schools in 1949.

"The longer you stay in Japan, the more the tree of democracy will take root in our country," Fuwa wrote.

Bombings Mark Spanish Election

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Separate bombings this morning injured three persons and damaged commuter rail lines just before polling places opened for Spain's first free election in 41 years.

The injuries occurred in Seville when a bomb found in a window of the Justice Ministry building went off as a police guard was taking it out. Two small explosions along rail lines in the northern Basque country were blamed on Basque nationalists trying to disrupt the voting.

Long lines formed when the polls opened, and officials predicted 80 per cent of the 23 million voters would turn out.

Episcopal Dissidents Set Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dissident members of the Episcopal Church from Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana plan to meet here Thursday night to consider further objections over the ordination of women.

John Kraft, a vestryman and lay reader at St. Paul's Episcopal Church here, said the meeting of the Fellowship of Concerned Episcopalians is one of many such meetings going on around the country. He said the group is also concerned with proposed changes in the Episcopal prayer book.

Kraft said the fellowship was organized because of dissatisfaction with changes made at the general church convention in Minneapolis last September.

The Rev. Robert Morse of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Oakland, Calif., is to be featured speaker. His congregation voted last February to break with the national church over the female ordination issue.

San Francisco newspapers have reported that congregations in Hayward and Del Monte, Calif., have voted to cut relations with the national church.

Kraft set up the meeting here but had no indication of the number expected to attend.

"The ordination of women is the big issue," he said. "This was defeated at two prior conventions and has brought a potential split in the church."

He said the fellowship plans a Congress in St. Louis Sept. 14-16 to fully develop a reform program.

"That will officially start the split," he said.

Twiggy Marries Michael Whitney

RICHMOND, England (AP) — Twiggy, the skinny model who became a cult figure in the 1960s, is now Mrs. Michael Whitney.

Twiggy, 27, and Whitney, a 42-year-old American actor, were married Tuesday in a civil ceremony in this well-heeled suburb on the River Thames.

About 30 colleagues and show business guests helped keep the wedding private, fending off reporters and photographers who turned up at the registry office when word of the marriage leaked out.

Twiggy, whose real name was Lesley Hornby, was formerly engaged to her agent, Justin de Villeneuve, a former hairdresser and son of a London bricklayer who changed his name from Nigel Davies.

De Villeneuve guided the skinny teen-ager to fame in the 1960s. She later starred in the movie, "The Boy Friend," and took up singing.

She and de Villeneuve broke up in 1973 after she met Whitney. De Villeneuve married American model Jan Ward in 1975.

Education Completed As Man Reaches 81

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ernest Miller quoted a Hindu philosopher to explain his part of his determination to complete his doctorate in education at the age of 81.

"I would leave you with one thought," he said, glancing at his fellow graduates at the University of Cincinnati. Few of them were born, nor were many of the faculty, when he began his quest in 1933.

Quoting from the philosopher Tagore, he said, "Education is precious to us because we never have the time to complete it."

When he started working toward the degree he already had 20 years experience as a teacher, principal, basketball coach, teaching supervisor and superintendent.

On Sunday he was the oldest of almost 5,000 persons to receive degrees during graduation ceremonies.

Miller began teaching at age 17 in a one-room country school in Waterloo, Ohio.

"The same kids I was running with one day I was teaching the next," Miller recalled.

Miller retired at age 72, after 10 years of teaching English at North Dearborn, Ind., High School.

"Those were my happiest days. They were great kids," he said.

His 55-year teaching career went from rural southeastern Ohio to Mansfield, Ohio, to Wittenberg College and then to Defiance College as dean of men.

While pursuing a masters degree at the University of Kentucky, he taught English and coached football at Kentucky Wesleyan College.

He had completed the written and oral examinations and all the course work for his doctoral degree except the theses when the U.S. government sent him to Japan as a principal of a school for American dependents in Kyoto.

His doctorate was based upon his experiences there. Before he left Japan, several of its officials wrote urging that Miller stay longer.

"We believe that the seeds you have sown in the Japanese minds will grow and bloom in the near future and help toward the democratization of Japan and peace in the world," said Osuma Fuwa, superintendent of Kyoto schools in 1949.

"The longer you stay in Japan, the

Episcopal Dissidents Set Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dissident members of the Episcopal Church from Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana plan to meet here Thursday night to consider further objections over the ordination of women.

John Kraft, a vestryman and lay reader at St. Paul's Episcopal Church here, said the meeting of the Fellowship of Concerned Episcopalians is one of many such meetings going on around the country. He said the group is also concerned with proposed changes in the Episcopal prayer book.

Kraft said the fellowship was organized because of dissatisfaction with changes made at the general church convention in Minneapolis last September.

The Rev. Robert Morse of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Oakland, Calif., is to be featured speaker. His congregation voted last February to break with the national church over the female ordination issue.

San Francisco newspapers have reported that congregations in Hayward and Del Monte, Calif., have voted to cut relations with the national church.

Kraft set up the meeting here but had no indication of the number expected to attend.

"The ordination of women is the big issue," he said. "This was defeated at two prior conventions and has brought a potential split in the church."

He said the fellowship plans a Congress in St. Louis Sept. 14-16 to fully develop a reform program.

"That will officially start the split," he said.

Twiggy Marries Michael Whitney

RICHMOND, England (AP) — Twiggy, the skinny model who became a cult figure in the 1960s, is now Mrs. Michael Whitney.

Twiggy, 27, and Whitney, a 42-year-old American actor, were married Tuesday in a civil ceremony in this well-heeled suburb on the River Thames.

About 30 colleagues and show business guests helped keep the wedding private, fending off reporters and photographers who turned up at the registry office when word of the marriage leaked out.

Twiggy, whose real name was Lesley Hornby, was formerly engaged to her agent, Justin de Villeneuve, a former hairdresser and son of a London bricklayer who changed his name from Nigel Davies.

Bombings Mark Spanish Election

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Separate bombings this morning injured three persons and damaged commuter rail lines just before polling places opened for Spain's first free election in 41 years.

The injuries occurred in Seville when a bomb found in a window of the Justice Ministry building went off as a police guard was taking it out. Two small explosions along rail lines in the northern Basque country were blamed on Basque nationalists trying to disrupt the voting.

Long lines formed when the polls opened, and officials predicted 80 per cent of the 23 million voters would turn out.

Bell Rate Increase Upheld By Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has refused to overturn an Ohio Bell rate increase over possible violation of the state "sunshine law."

The ruling came Wednesday in a decision dismissing appeals of Bell rate increases by a burglar alarm association and Central State University.

The justices threw out a contention by the Central Station Electrical Protection Association that an asserted violation by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio of the open meetings law was grounds for invalidating the rate increase.

The association, representing 28 burglar and fire alarm companies, said PUCO failed to provide written,

Cleveland Enrollment Dips Sharply

CLEVELAND (AP) — Public hearings on a court-ordered school desegregation plan have revealed sharply declining enrollment in city public schools.

When describing the Cleveland school board's plans to close eight elementary schools, Asst. School Supt. James R. Tanner told the opening session of the public hearings Wednesday that school enrollment had dropped about 6,000 from last fall, when about 122,000 pupils were in class.

Tanner said the enrollment was down to 115,998 in May, and he predicted that when schools open in the fall, there will be only 108,000 to 110,000 pupils.

He did not indicate the current ratio of black to white pupils. The portion of black pupils last month was reported at 58.5 per cent.

The enrollment slump came to light during questioning by Daniel McCarthy, the special master appointed by U.S. District Court Judge Frank Battisti to review the desegregation plans and make final recommendations.

Tanner, who supervised preparation of the 107-page plan offered by the city school board, was the only witness to appear Wednesday, and was to be back on the stand today.

advance notice of two meetings.

Justice Ralph Locher, writing for the majority, said the association had "not claimed that it was in any manner prejudiced by this absence of notice."

"This court will not reverse an order of the commission upon a assignment of error without a showing of concomitant harm or prejudice," Locher said.

The ruling would appear to indicate the court's view that failure to provide notice of meetings by public bodies is not violative of the law, except under certain circumstances.

The law does not call for invalidation of actions taken at a meeting that has not been publicized in advance. Instead it says that aggrieved parties may seek a court injunction to stop a meeting when notice is not given and that officials who refuse to give notice of their meetings can face ouster.

Sen. Robert D. Freeman, D29 Canton, said the ruling was damaging to the open meetings act and would probably result in amending legislation to strengthen the language.

In a unanimous decision, the court said the telephone company "presented evidence in support of the private-line rate increase upon which the Public Utilities Commission could conclude that the applicant (Bell) had met its burden of proof.

"This court will not disturb that ruling," the decision said.

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Don't miss Berea College's Puppetry Caravan this week! Shows will be at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Ted Lewis Park, Tuesday at Williamsport's Community Square, and Thursday at Ashville Community Park. Workshops will be held from 10:00-12:00 a.m., Monday-Friday at the YMCA. Call us at the public library to sign up!

New books of interest in the Children's Room include two fascinating works of nonfiction. "Window into a Nest" shows the private world of a family of birds, from the courtship of the parents through the first flight of the chicks. Using a nestbox and hidden camera, the authors have actually recorded on film five months of the birds' daily life. The readers can follow the subtly developing bond between the cock and hen, their discovery and furnishing of the box, and the laying of eggs. Photographs also show the parents working together to raise their chicks.

See State Of Energy War In U.S.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. James G. Affleck, president and chairman of American Cyanamid Co., says a "new system of priorities" will emerge from the growing energy crunch.

"How we go about establishing those priorities will determine our effectiveness in resolving this national crisis," he told the American Marketing Association Wednesday.

"We must understand that economics is not a morality play, and we cannot assign value judgments to the phenomena of the marketplace."

"As undesirable as price increases may be, they do not represent a flaw in the nation's moral fiber," he said.

"We must shake off the idea that sinister motives and cupidity are at work each time the Consumer Price Index rises...We must recognize that we are facing the economic equivalent of war, not the moral equivalent."

Dr. Affleck said the price of energy "inevitably is going to rise, increasing in turn costs of national ongoing projects and planned programs."

During the national debate on the energy program and priorities, he said, politicians, mass media and economists "will continue to relate economics to morality, and there will be even more vocal public outcries and louder charges of profiteering than those which showered upon the oil companies and, inevitably, greater constraints placed on the free market by government regulators."

Puppetry Caravan Sets Performance On Sunday

PUPPETRY CARAVAN

The Pickaway County Public Library announces that the Summer Puppetry Caravan will arrive in Pickaway County Sunday for a week-long series of performances and workshops.

The Caravan, making its eighth summer tour of the Southern mountains and surrounding areas, is comprised of four students and a director from Berea College, Kentucky. Three hand puppet and two marionette shows are the travelling stock this summer from a total repertoire of twelve shows.

A Puppetry Workshop also will be held each morning from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, June 20-24, at the YMCA. The Workshop involves members of the community, both adults and children, in constructing puppets and producing a show to be given on the last workshop day. Interested persons should register at the public library immediately. There is a $10 workshop fee.

Public performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Ted Lewis Park on June 19; the Community Square, Williamsport on June 21; and Ashville Community Park on June 23. There will be no admission charge, but contributions will be accepted.

The Caravan has scheduled "Punch and Judy," the centuries-old hand puppet show which features audience participation. The unpredictable nature and variety of this show make no two alike. "The Dragon's Ordeal" stars a real fire-breathing dragon who gives a hot-foot to a bumbling knight.

Marionette shows, the special pride of the Caravan, are "Dwarf Long Nose" and "Green Gourd". These productions exhibit the skill and delicacy of the puppeteers' art.

Based on a classic German folktale, "Dwarf Long Nose" involves magical transformations, bewitched guinea pigs, and an evil cook that mysteriously challenge the show's innocent hero.

Have you ever been chased by a gourd? It's really a harrowing experience; just ask the old woman in "Green Gourd." You can ask the groundhog, the bear, the fox, and the wildcat too. The gourd in this show is one of the most persistent you'll ever see.

The Summer Puppetry Caravan was originated and is directed by Neil Di Teresa, Associate Professor of Art at Berea College. Student puppeteers for the tour are Julia Weatherford, a junior art major from Berea; Nick Miller, a graduate of Berea College from Dilly's Bottom, Ohio; Connie Klinefelter, a Nursing major from Bell County, Kentucky; and Mark Mueller, a junior Classics major from Pittsburg, California.

The Caravan, begun with cooperation and funding from Berea College and the Rockefeller Foundation, and subsidized this summer with a grant from the national Endowment for the Arts, is a non-profit program dedicated to extend Appalachian aspects of traditional mountain culture.

Locally, the Caravan's visit has been arranged by the Friends of the Pickaway County District Public Library with the assistance of the YMCA, Shawnee Vineyards, Ashville Kiwanis, and the following Circleville civic clubs: the Child Conservation League, Junior Women, Kiwanis, La Sertoma, and Moundbuilders.

Croatian Attack No Surprise

NEW YORK (AP) — The Yugoslavian government expected an attack on its Fifth Avenue United Nations mission and had warned U.S. authorities, the Yugoslavian U.N. ambassador says.

Three armed Croats seized an office in the mission Tuesday afternoon after shooting a security guard. They were believed to be members of the same group which hijacked a Chicago-bound airplane to Europe last year and planted a bomb that killed a police officer.

They barricaded the office for several hours. One of them apparently used a high-pitched voice to convince an officer they had a female hostage, but they were alone in the office.

The Croats vowed to die for their cause but surrendered after hearing a radio report that their demands had been presented to U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim.

Yugoslav U.N. ambassador Jaksa Petric said in a statement his government had "had very strong indications" that some sort of terrorist action would be taken against the mission this week, timed to precede an international conference starting today in Belgrade.

Petric charged that "this is one more act committed by fascist terrorist groups whose activity has been tolerated on the soil of the United States for many years."

He said his country had repeatedly warned U.S. officials of such activity and "on the very eve of the attack, we again warned them of the danger of a repetition of terrorist acts."

The ambassador did not say what American officials had received the warning except that it was not the local police.

State Troopers Turkey Herders

TEKONSHA, Mich. (AP) — You've heard of police officers playing cowboy to round up stray animals.

Today state troopers played "turkeyboy" in Barry County for three hours to round up 1,100 turkeys which had been running amuck on Interstate 69 near here.

The birds escaped when a truck from Fort Recovery, Ohio, overturned on the freeway shortly before 4 a.m.

Troopers borrowed a section of fence from the Tekonsha school system to force the birds into a makeshift corral. Troopers were not sure if any turkeys were lost, but the freeway was cleared.

The truck driver was not hurt.

TRANQUILITY — Shimmering beauty of late spring afternoon on Mogadore Reservoir, in Portage County, east of Akron, Ohio, provides an idyllic setting for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bayless to test their fishing skills.

Queen Sets Loan To Smithsonian

WASHINGTON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II is lending royal memorabilia from her private collections in Buckingham Palace and the Royal Library at Windsor Castle to a silver jubilee exhibition at the Smithsonian Institution.

The Smithsonian says its Museum of History and Technology is the only one in this country to honor the jubilee and exhibit objects from the queen's private collections.

There also are loans from the White House and several presidential libraries for the exhibit opening today.

Beginning with the establishment of the first British plantations in the New World, the exhibition uses a range of paintings, charters, personal communications and state gifts to show how members of the royal family interacted with early American settlers and later with inventors and presidents.

The exhibition includes a charter given to Cecil Calvert, Lord of Baltimore, by King Charles in 1632, granting him the lands which became Maryland in exchange for two arrowheads and a portion of any gold and silver found there.

The tradition continues. With the charter are two arrowheads presented to the queen by the governor of Maryland in 1957.

There are portions of cables, original tape and letters exchanged between Queen Victoria and President James Buchanan at the inauguration of the first successful transatlantic submarine telegraph cable.

The Prince of Wales visited this country in 1860, and his trip is reflected in an exchange of letters, dinner invitations and other activities.

The prince, later King Edward, was not impressed by Ohio. One of his letters to Queen Victoria reads in part: "Last Monday we left Cincinnati early in the morning & reached Pittsburgh in the evening after a long & fatiguing railway journey devoid of any interest. Pittsburgh may be considered the Birmingham of the U. States & is very prettily situated on the River Monongahela."

Farmers Eligible For Emergency Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Farmers Home Administration announced on Wednesday that farmers in Logan, Marion and Wayne counties may be eligible for emergency loans for crop losses as a result of freezing conditions between April 28 and May 11.

The long-term, renewable and low-interest loans are available through the rural credit service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Borrowers, to qualify, must be able to qualify for commercial borrowing. Applications should be made through the nearest FmHA office.

Hot and humid summer weather is making another appearance in Ohio through Thursday.

Temperatures will be in the 80s and the humidity will be around 50 per cent. The National Weather Service says those conditions could cause problems for livestock on Ohio farms.

A storm in Minnesota will move eastward into the Great Lakes area tonight. It will bring a chance of showers into Ohio by Friday.

The extended outlook is for continued warm and humid conditions. Forecasters say warm and humid weather is expected Saturday through Monday, with a chance of showers each day. Highs will be in the 80s and lows in the 60s.

Kevin Haney does the make-up for the outdoor drama "Tecumseh." Besides the normal make-up used, Haney has added something new this year — latex masks.

These masks fit like a second skin even over the eyelids. They are re-made every day when the latex wears out.

The first masks took three weeks to three months to make, depending upon the amount of detail needed.

All actors are made up at one time, even those who wear the masks. Haney goes over the make-up process with each individual once. After that, it's up to the actor to do his or her own make-up.

Most of the make-up used is hypo-allergenic and Haney adds a commercial skin softening lotion to prevent it from drying out the skin.

Haney says although it's very difmolds the actors' faces, then uses the molds to design new masks periodically throughout the season. Peterson explained that Haney connects the mask at the hairline with a skin-like skull cap, then glues the mask above the upper lip. These connections make facial expressions very natural.

ficult to get into the make-up business, "once you're in, you're in for good."

I figure if you've got a fairly unique talent, you can't be ignored," Haney said. "Many make-up artists are getting away with murder and it's really sad because the people who could be doing it aren't in."

Personal Care Home Sponsors Honored By VA

The Veterans Administration facility at Chillicothe honored sponsors of community Personal Care Homes with a Recognition Program today in the facility's Recreation Hall.

Over 100 men and women currently involved in the VA program of foster care for veterans congregated with VA staff for this event. Of this total, nine sponsors were recognized for 15 to 17 years of service each. The "average" sponsor has been in the program for 6½ years.

In a "This Is Your Life" recollection of the history of this Veterans Administration program, Mrs. Sylvia Johnson, community care supervisor, pointed out that Chillicothe VA Hospital placed its first patient in a "Family Care Home" in November 1959. Since that date, 2388 veterans have lived in area community residences now called Personal Care Homes. Today 515 live in 103 Personal Care Homes. Nationwide, the Veterans Administration is the largest consumer of foster care.

Veterans in this Community Care Program finance their care from their own funds. They are outpatients of the VA facility which provides nine social workers to supervise the program in the 12-county area.

Dr. Byron Stinson, psychiatric consultant from Ohio State University, talked to the group about "When Room-and Board is Not Enough". He discussed the continuation of treatment and the "extras" of personal supervision and personal relationships needed by veterans as they re-orient themselves to the responsibilities and satisfactions of a life outside the hospital setting.

Agency On Aging Public Hearing Will Be June 29

Mrs. Vera Saunders, services coordinator, Pickaway Senior Citizens center, will chair the Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging's Pickaway County public hearing to be held June 29. The hearing will be held at the Pickaway Senior Citizens' Center, 8010 U. S. Route 22, East, beginning at 10 a.m.

According to Mrs. Saunders who serves as Pickaway County's executive committee member to the area agency's eight county advisory council, "this hearing offers Pickaway County senior citizens and service providers an opportunity to discuss directly with a major planning and funding organization the types of service most needed to help older people remain independent."

The Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging, operated by the Columbus Recreation and Parks Department, is one of 12 area agencies on aging funded jointly by the Ohio Commission on Aging to annually plan, fund and coordinate services for Older Ohioans in a multiple county area with Older Americans' Act monies.

Mrs. Ardath H. Lynch, administrator of the Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging, will preface the citizen-agency dialogue with remarks concerning the Older Americans' Act and Area Agency's functions. Mrs. Lynch will also introduce the Pickaway County delegates to its Advisory Council and explain their role.

Based upon in-put received at last year's public hearing the Pickaway County Commissioners are currently receiving Title III Older Americans' Act funding for recreation, information and referral, chore, friendly visiting and transportation services. All Pickaway County senior citizens and service providers are encouraged to attend and actively participate in this public hearing.

Ron Hall Named Cage Coach At Miami Trace

Ron Hall, former coach of Zane Trace and Frankfort Adena, has been hired as head basketball coach at Miami Trace High School by the Fayette County Board of Education.

Hall built two successful basketball programs in Ross County high schools during his nine years as coach and is a former Ohio coach of the year. He has spent the last five years at Frankfort Adena High School.

The 36-year-old Hall is a graduate of Chillicothe High School and Ohio University. He has compiled a 151-57 mark during his nine years of coaching.

In 1965 he began his coaching career as an assistant coach to Corky Miller at Chillicothe High School. In 1967 he moved into the head coaching job at Zane Trace where he compiled a four-year record of 87-12.

In 1970 Zane Trace made it to the Class A State semi finals and Hall was named coach of the year.

Hall accepted a post as assistant coach at the University of North Carolina-Wilmington in 1971.

He remained at North Carolina for a year before returning to Ross County to take over the lead reins at Adena.

It was a rebuilding job for Hall and after two losing seasons it began to pay off and Adena had three winning seasons and two league titles. He was also named district coach of the year.

During the 1976-77 season Adena had a record of 15-5 and made it to the district finals.

He will have something to work with in his first season at Miami Trace as the Panthers have four starters back from last year's 9-10 season.

4 MAC Players Receive Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four Mid-American Conference baseball players, two from champion Central Michigan and one each from Miami and Bowling Green, earned All-American honors today.

Bowling Green catcher Larry Owen was a second team selection while second baseman Dan Rohn and designated hitter Ben Bonk of Central Michigan and Miami shortstop Mark Naehring made the coaches' third team.

Owen led the Mid-American in home runs with a record 14 and batted .348. Rohn led the league with 33 stolen bases and batted .337. Naehring paced the MAC with 52 runs-batted-in and seven triples and hit .382. Bonk was the No. 3 hitter in the conference with .405.

The four were honored at a banquet in Omaha, Neb., today during the College World Series.

Shortstop Bill Russell of the Los Angeles Dodgers is nick-named "Ropes."

Rose Leads Welcome For Tom Seaver

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds have the red carpet out for Tom Seaver— with team captain Pete Rose heading the welcoming committee.

"I just hope Tom is as anxious to come here as we are to have him," said Rose Wednesday night after learning that the two-time world champions had just acquired the fireballing righthander from the New York Mets.

"This gives us the premier pitcher in baseball. It will be like fielding an All-Star team," said Manager Sparky Anderson.

"We gave up a lot, but we got a lot," said Anderson. "Seaver may be the all-time, all-time before he is through."

"This," said Reds' pitching coach Larry Shepard, "takes the pressure off the other pitchers like Sandy Koufax did for the Dodgers."

The Reds gave up starting pitcher Pat Zachry, utility infielder Doug Flynn and promising minor league outfielders Steve Henderson and Dan Norman for the three-time Cy Young Award winner.

The trade ends the Reds' long search for a dominant pitcher to go with an awesome offense which has produced 108 and 102 regular season victories the past two years.

Seaver, 32, figures to offset the loss of relief ace Rawly Eastwick, who was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals for reliever Doug Capilla.

Eastwick, the National League's top fireman last year, was the only unsigned Cincinnati player and had recently lashed out at management.

He was booed while warming up in the 10th inning of Wednesday's 8-7 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

"They gave me away and I expected them to," said Eastwick, who has led the league in saves the past two years.

"I hope these guys go to the playoffs and win three in a row again—but not for the front office, for the players," said the 26 year-old righthander.

Also traded was reliever Mike Caldwell, who was sent to Milwaukee for two minor leaguers.

Anderson said the Seaver deal was formulated Sunday, but not finalized until late Wednesday night.

Rose had a hunch something big was brewing. "I knew it was coming. Things you don't expect, that's how Howsam works," said Rose, speaking in a subdued clubhouse as traded players said their goodbyes.

He sought out Eastwick and told him

"you can still help us. Get out to the West Coast Friday and get Ron Cey out with the bases loaded."

Catcher Johnny Bench expressed worry over "so much turnover." "We've got four guys gone and we have to fill those spots. But it is nice to know we have Seaver going out there every four or five days."

Anderson, ecstatic that the Reds did not break up their powerful eight-man offensive lineup, said the Mets "filled their needs by getting an outfielder (Henderson), an infielder (Flynn) and a rookie of the year pitcher."

He said Henderson did not figure to break into the Reds outfield for three or four more years and Flynn would have been relegated to reserve duty behind Joe Morgan and Dave Concepcion, a pair of All-Star performers.

Clippers Win, Sweep Series

Behind Tim Jones' seven hit pitching performance, and a powerful 15 hit attack by the Columbus offense, the Clippers took an 8-4 victory from the Pawtucket Red Sox Wednesday night at Franklin County Stadium.

The win gave Columbus a clean three-game sweep of the series over the league leading Red Sox.

Jones got help from Clipper fireman Rich Standart in the ninth. The win moves Jones record to 7-2 for the season.

Four Clippers smacked doubles in the contest: Jim Nettles, Bob Oliver, Tim Berra, and Gary Hargis.

The Clippers head for Tidewater, Virginia today, and the Red Sox move on to Charleston to begin a series with the Charlies.

Ron Hall Named Cage Coach At Miami Trace

Ron Hall, former coach of Zane Trace and Frankfort Adena, has been hired as head basketball coach at Miami Trace High School by the Fayette County Board of Education.

Hall built two successful basketball programs in Ross County high schools during his nine years as coach and is a former Ohio coach of the year. He has spent the last five years at Frankfort Adena High School.

The 36-year-old Hall is a graduate of Chillicothe High School and Ohio University. He has compiled a 151-57 mark during his nine years of coaching.

In 1965 he began his coaching career as an assistant coach to Corky Miller at Chillicothe High School. In 1967 he moved into the head coaching job at Zane Trace where he compiled a four-year record of 87-12.

In 1970 Zane Trace made it to the Class A State semi finals and Hall was named coach of the year.

Hall accepted a post as assistant coach at the University of North Carolina-Wilmington in 1971.

He remained at North Carolina for a year before returning to Ross County to take over the lead reins at Adena.

It was a rebuilding job for Hall and after two losing seasons it began to pay off and Adena had three winning seasons and two league titles. He was also named district coach of the year.

During the 1976-77 season Adena had a record of 15-5 and made it to the district finals.

He will have something to work with in his first season at Miami Trace as the Panthers have four starters back from last year's 9-10 season.

Rose Leads Welcome For Tom Seaver

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds have the red carpet out for Tom Seaver— with team captain Pete Rose heading the welcoming committee.

"I just hope Tom is as anxious to come here as we are to have him," said Rose Wednesday night after learning that the two-time world champions had just acquired the fireballing righthander from the New York Mets.

"This gives us the premier pitcher in baseball. It will be like fielding an All-Star team," said Manager Sparky Anderson.

"We gave up a lot, but we got a lot," said Anderson. "Seaver may be the all-time, all-timer before he is through."

"This," said Reds' pitching coach Larry Shepard, "takes the pressure off the other pitchers like Sandy Koufax did for the Dodgers."

The Reds gave up starting pitcher Pat Zachry, utility infielder Doug Flynn and promising minor league outfielders Steve Henderson and Dan Norman for the three-time Cy Young Award winner.

The trade ends the Reds' long search for a dominant pitcher to go with an awesome offense which has produced 108 and 102 regular season victories the past two years.

Seaver, 32, figures to offset the loss of relief ace Rawly Eastwick, who was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals for reliever Doug Capilla.

Eastwick, the National League's top fireman last year, was the only unsigned Cincinnati player and had recently lashed out at management.

He was booed while warming up in the 10th inning of Wednesday's 8-7 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

"They gave me away and I expected them to," said Eastwick, who has led the league in saves the past two years.

"I hope these guys go to the playoffs and win three in a row again—but not for the front office, for the players," said the 26-year-old righthander.

Also traded was reliever Mike Caldwell, who was sent to Milwaukee for two minor leaguers.

Anderson said the Seaver deal was formulated Sunday, but not finalized until late Wednesday night.

Rose had a hunch something big was brewing. "I knew it was coming. Things you don't expect, that's how Howsam works," said Rose, speaking in a subdued clubhouse as traded players said their goodbyes.

He sought out Eastwick and told him "you can still help us. Get out to the West Coast Friday and get Ron Cey out with the bases loaded."

Catcher Johnny Bench expressed worry over "so much turnover."

"We've got four guys gone and we have to fill those spots. But it is nice to know we have Seaver going out there every four or five days."

Anderson, ecstatic that the Reds did not break up their powerful eight-man offensive lineup, said the Mets "filled their needs by getting an outfielder (Henderson), an infielder (Flynn) and a rookie of the year pitcher."

He said Henderson did not figure to break into the Reds outfield for three or four more years and Flynn would have been relegated to reserve duty behind Joe Morgan and Dave Concepcion, a pair of All-Star performers.

Clippers Win, Sweep Series

Behind Tim Jones' seven hit pitching performance, and a powerful 15 hit attack by the Columbus offense, the Clippers took an 8-4 victory from the Pawtucket Red Sox Wednesday night at Franklin County Stadium.

The win gave Columbus a clean three-game sweep of the series over the league leading Red Sox.

Jones got help from Clipper fireman Rich Standart in the ninth. The win moves Jones record to 7-2 for the season.

Four Clippers smacked doubles in the contest: Jim Nettles, Bob Oliver, Tim Berra, and Gary Hargis.

The Clippers head for Tidewater, Virginia today, and the Red Sox move on to Charleston to begin a series with the Charlies.

Seaver To Reds For Zachry, Flynn, 2 More

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

The top names bartered away before baseball's trading deadline also were the biggest name-callers in recent weeks.

—Tom Seaver once called his boss

"a lunatic."

—Dave Kingman said his employers were living in the dark ages.

—And Rawly Eastwick said his chiefs were good at backstabbing.

These players today work for different organizations, although it was ironic that Seaver now plays for the team Eastwick could not stand.

Seaver, perhaps the top pitcher in baseball the past 10 years, and Kingman, a boom-or-bust slugger, were traded by the New York Mets Wednesday night.

The right-handed Seaver went to the Cincinnati Reds for right-handed pitcher Pat Zachry, the National League's rookie of the year in 1976, infielder Doug Flynn and minor league outfielders Steve Henderson and Dan Norman. Henderson, who swings a big bat, and Flynn, a versatile infielder, were unable to crack the Reds' talent-rich lineup.

Seaver's main complaint with his boss, M. Donald Grant, was that he was cheap. He would not lay out millions for last year's talented free agents and he would not renegotiate Seaver's three-year, $675,000 contract.

Bob Howsam, the Reds' president, said Seaver's contract would not be renegotiated this year.

Kingman takes his all-or-nothing bat to San Diego, where he will be toiling for the Padres, who did spend millions on a couple of free agents last year. Kingman, who is unsigned, also thought Grant was tight with money. It was not known whether Kingman would sign with the Padres, who sent reserve infielder Bobby Valentine and left-handed pitcher Paul Siebert to the Mets.

Eastwick also was unsigned, and he said that he does not intend to put his name on a St. Louis contract. The Cardinals, who now pack a potent one-two punch in Eastwick and Al Hrabosky out of the bullpen, sent minor league pitcher Doug Capilla to the Reds in the deal.

The fact that Kingman and Eastwick were unsigned will not invalidate those deals, although, exactly one year ago, Oakland owner Charles O. Finley sold two of his unsigned players, Rolie Fingers and Joe Rudi, for $1 million apiece to the Boston Red Sox, and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn blocked the transactions.

Kuhn, in a landmark decision which has been affirmed by a federal judge, voided those sales, plus the $1.5 million sale of Vida Blue to the New York Yankees one year ago, citing his powers to act in the best interests of baseball.

Kuhn said the Oakland sales of a year ago would dismantle the club, and that the A's had not received any major league players in return. At least the 1977 deals, completed just prior to the trading deadline, had players moving in both directions.

In other transactions involving the Reds, Cincinnati dealt left-handed pitcher Mike Caldwell to the Milwaukee Brewers for a pair of minor leaguers, Richard O'Keeffe, a left-handed pitcher, and shortstop Garry Pyka, and acquired the contract of utility infielder Rick Auerbach from the Texas Rangers.

The Mets did not stop when they had unloaded their stars. They traded infielder Mike Phillips to St. Louis for outfielder Joel Youngblood.

In other deals, the Pittsburgh Pirates sent pinch-hitter Ed Kirkpatrick to Texas for infielder Jim Fregosi, Oakland acquired outfielder Willie Crawford from Houston for outfielder Dennis Walling, and the New York Yankees got catcher Cliff Johnson for a pair of minor leaguers and a player to be named later.

Golfers Gripe, Keep Winning

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus hobbled into the locker room, limping on his right foot.

"Stepped into a hole back home at Muirfield last week," he said. "Not serious, I hope. But, see, I've had to cut out my shoe to ease the pressure."

Across the room, young Ben Crenshaw wheezed and sneezed. "This chest cold; can't shake it," he said. "Been bothering me for weeks. I had to skip Memphis last week."

Elsewhere, Jerry Pate held a virtual clinic in trying to explain the pinched nerve in his shoulder that has erased him from all but one tournament since the Masters. And Lee Trevino continues to wince from the back operation that has dulled his magnificent game.

"Nicklaus, Crenshaw, Pate, and Trevino—take your choice," mused

Fred Corcoran, the graying Bostonian whose life has been inextricably woven into one-half century of American golf.

"One of them is certain to win."

"Sick men of the tournament."

Joseph C. Dey Jr., who as a reporter chronicled Bob Jones' 1930 Grand Slam and later became the virtual czar of both amateur and pro golf, nodded agreement.

"As old James Braid, the Scotsman, used to say, 'You can't beat a man with a headache,'" Dey commented.

Practice, practice, practice—that's one prescription for attaining golf success. Another is to come down with pneumonia or break a leg just before teeing up the ball in a big event, such as the 77th U.S. Open, starting today at the Southern Hills Country Club.

One of the most notable cases involved Craig Wood at Colonial in Fort Worth in 1941. Playing in a tournament in the East, Wood dropped a razor while shaving one morning and wrenched his back when he bent to retrieve it.

The pain was excruciating. He had to pull out of the tournament. He took off for Texas with a corset around his waist and a board to sleep on. He started the tournament with a seven. On the second hole, he flubbed his drive, dead-topped his second and sent his third scurrying 40 feet past the pin.

"Pick it up—I'm quitting," Wood told his caddie. Tommy Armour and Mike Turnesa prevailed upon him to continue. Wood sank the putt and then, cringing every time he swung the club and suffering sleepless nights, went on to win the championship.

No one in golf typified defiance of adversity more than Ben Hogan. Nearly killed in an automobile accident in 1949, he was left so broken and battered doctors said he might never walk—much less play golf—again.

Trudging stiff-legged around the Merion course on legs that had to be strung on wires at night to maintain circulation, Hogan won his "comeback Open" and went to capture two others as well as complete an unparalleled pro slam—the Masters, British and U. S. opens in 1953.

National title at Southern Hills, said: "The course is playing much easier than it was back then. The rough was a lot higher."

Open House Slated At Fish Hatchery

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Division of Wildlife will conduct a free family open house Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday, noon to 5 p.m. at the London Fish Hatchery.

Families will tour the London Fish Hatchery where they may see rainbow trout and golden trout up to 10 pounds, adult largemouth bass, fingerling walleye, and muskies. Families will enjoy feeding the trout and bass. Guests will also be able to observe feeding 70,000 trout, 50,000 walleye, 5,000 bass, and 5,000 muskie fingerlings.

Self-guide tour maps will be available at the entrance which will enable families to enjoy the hatchery at their leisure, with Division personnel stationed throughout the hatchery grounds to explain rearing techniques and answer questions.

Hunting, fishing and trapping displays will be staffed by Division of Wildlife personnel. There will be movies and slides throughout the day. A fishing clinic will be conducted at 2 p.m. each day, followed by fish filleting demonstrations. Also on display will be a 6 foot test net, used to sample adult fish populations in state lakes, and a 17 foot Maritime workboat. While on the tour of the grounds, (an approximate one mile walk), visitors can rest in a stand of mature pines overlooking the trout ponds.

The London Fish Hatchery is two miles west of London off London-Springfield Road. Direction signs will be erected from I-70 at State Route 56.

Wonder Buck Wins At Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Wonder Buck, a 2-year-old colt owned by Lowell Crickett of Waynesville, Ohio won the $1,500 featured pace mile at Latonia on Wednesday night.

The colt, sired by Miracle Knight, lost the lead in the stretch but came back with :30 flat in the final quarter to finish in 2:04.2-5.

The winner paid $3, $3 and $3. Miss Little Bit placed, $9.40 and $4.80 and Little Sampson, third, $4.40.

Jon Kelly combined 4-2 with Oakwood Lady for $263.40 in the double. Attendance was 1,028 and the mutuel pool totaled $87,348.

Jerry Pate Leading U.S. Open Field

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Defending champion Jerry Pate had the rest of the U.S. Open field just where he wanted them today—"feeling sorry for me."

"I'm going to give everybody something to write about ... there's no reason why I can't win," said the 23-year-old former University of Alabama star who has been plagued with a shoulder injury since he won the Phoenix Open, the first tournament of the year.

With a field of 152 other players chasing Pate on the opening round of the 77th National Championship, the confident Georgian said: "I'm pain-free, both physically and mentally. I was on the practice tee Wednesday and my shoulder and arms no longer hurt. I wasn't even thinking about it until somebody mentioned it."

Pate has abandoned the use of the drug butazolin which had helped ease the inflammation in his shoulder.

Chi Chi Rodriguez, whose suddenly revamped game has made him one of the favorites over Southern Hills Country Club's 6,873 yards of treachery, said "Jerry is playing so well I wish he had taken another month off. He's really putting."

Pate, one of the PGA's young turks with the nerveless putting touch, is aware that repeaters have seldom been successful in the Open. Since 1920 only Bobby Jones (1929-1930), Ralph Guldahl (1937-1938) and Ben Hogan (1950-1951) have repeated in America's most prestigious tournament.

Pate said he felt "somebody is going to shoot this thing under par if the weather stays like it has. The greens are super slick but fair. The rough is tough and is going to get tougher. But the weather is the main thing."

Dave Stockton shot one-under-par 279 when he captured the PGA title here in 1970.

Tommy Bolt, who won the 1958

Gerald Wins

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — John Gerard of Columbus attributed his unceremonious finish to nervousness, but his 77 Wednesday still was good enough to win the Ohio PreSeniors Golf Tournament championship.

The 43-year-old Gerard bogeyed the final three holes of his five-over-par round to finish with a 36-hole total of 148 for a one-stroke victory over Walter Brownback of Worthington.

Dick Quinn of Zanesville, the 1963 winner of this event, and Bob Widener of Medina shared third place with 150s. Quinn shot a 76 and Widener a 77 Wednesday.

Joe Sugar of Columbus and Jack Miller of Mansfield were fourth with 151s, while defending champion Chuck Smith of Delaware and 1975 titlist Rick Jones of Youngstown were in a group at 152.

Carew Leads Twins Past Angels, 3-2

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Say, who was that blur on the basepaths? That was no blur—that was Rod Carew.

Revered more as a hitter than a speedster, the veteran used both his legs and his head Wednesday night in leading the Minnesota Twins to a 3-2 victory over the California Angels.

Carew turned an ordinary double into a triple with a daring burst in the seventh inning, and that bit of highway robbery with one out eventually led to Craig Kuskick's game-winning sacrifice fly.

"I don't think I would have tried to get three out of it if there had been two outs or another pitcher besides Frank Tanana," said Carew. "You don't score too many runs off him."

In other American League games, the Seattle Mariners edged the Oakland A's 6-5 in 11 innings, the Texas Rangers blanked the Cleveland Indians 6-0, the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Baltimore Orioles 6-2 and the Detroit Tigers trounced the Toronto Blue Jays 9-0.

Carew's triple was his 11th of the season. He also singled and boosted his major-league leading batting average to .388.

Dave Goltz blanked the Angels after giving up two runs in the first inning. The burly right-hander scattered nine hits, struck out eight and walked two while going the distance for the fourth time this season.

Tanana, 10-3, fanned just three, walked four and hit one batter. Jerry Remy tripled, doubled, and singled twice for the Angels, who fell 4½ games behind the frontrunning Twins in the American League West.

Mariners 6, A's 5

Juan Bernhardt's two-out single in the 11th inning capped a two-run rally as Seattle edged Oakland. Mike Kekich, 4-1, pitched four innings of relief and picked up the victory. Pablo Torrealba, 3-1, took the defeat.

Dave Collins opened the 11th for Seattle with an infield single, moved to second on Bill Stein's sacrifice and scored on Larry Milbourne's single, tying the score 5-5.

Dave Giusti then replaced Torrealba. Skip Jutze sacrificed Milbourne to second and Bernhardt then singled for the winning run.

Rangers 6, Indians 0

Mike Marshall, Adrian Devine and Darold Knowles combined on a four-hitter as Texas defeated Cleveland and handed the Indians their fourth straight loss.

Marshall allowed three hits before tiring in his third start of the year. Devine pitched the eighth and Knowles the ninth for Texas, which swept the three-game series.

Brewers 6, Orioles 2

Don Money capped Milwaukee's six-run second inning with a two-run homer, and the Brewers went on to defeat Baltimore behind the combined seven-hit pitching of Jim Slaton and Sam Hinds.

Money had two singles in addition to his homer, giving him 12 hits in his last eight games.

Cecil Cooper had two hits as Milwaukee sent 11 batters to the plate in the second. After Cooper launched the rally with a single, Mike Flanagan walked the next two batters.

Tigers 9, Blue Jays 0

Fernando Arroyo fired a five-hitter for his first major league shutout as Detroit beat Toronto. Arroyo kept Toronto batters blasting the ball into the dirt most of the game, and Tigers first baseman Jason Thompson made 16 of the Tigers' 27 putouts.

Arroyo, 4-1 as a starter since being inserted into the rotation May 14, improved his season record to 5-3.

Buddy Bell Leaves; 'Personal Problem'

CLEVELAND (AP) — As if the Cleveland Indians needed another problem, third baseman Buddy Bell gave them one Wednesday night as he walked out on the club prior to their game with the Texas Rangers.

Bell, 26, has been Cleveland's "Mr. Dependable" in recent years, and his absence Wednesday broke a string of appearances in 234 straight games, dating back to Sept. 8, 1975.

Bell was not answering the phone at his suburban Cleveland home, but he greeted a visiting sports writer with a smile and didn't appear upset.

"I've got a personal problem," Bell told the visitor as Indians Coach Rocky Colavito looked on. "I really don't want to discuss it. Something came up that I felt I should be home for."

Colavito, who rushed out to Bell's home after the youngster suddenly walked off the field, dressed and left, supported Bell, saying, "That's what it is, a personal problem, and there is no reason that you should say anything else."

The Indians, who lost 6-0 Wednesday night and now have dropped four in a row, play an exhibition game tonight in Toledo against their Triple A farm club, but Colavito said Bell has the day off.

Asked if he would rejoin the club when it plays Detroit here Friday night, the son of former major league star Gus Bell said, "I just don't know."

Bell is hitting .301 this season, and is leading Cleveland in homers with five and runs batted in with 27.

Indians Manager Frank Robinson appeared mystified by Bell's sudden disappearance, but said, "The main thing is to find out what we can do to help him. I won't talk about punishment or anything like that."

"He's not the type of person to do something like this unless it was important," he added.

Mets, Reds Also Game-Winners

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

The New York Mets lost Tom Seaver, Dave Kingman and Mike Phillips Wednesday night. The Mets also won a game Wednesday night.

While the team's front office was busy wheeling and dealing before the major league trading deadline, the Mets blew a 4-0 lead before rallying for a 6-5 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Bruce Boicclair hit a two-run homer and John Milner collected a single, triple and three RBI in the triumph. For Milner, it was a happy homecoming.

Boicclair said he knew he was about to hit a home run as soon as he saw Atlanta starter Joey McLaughlin's delivery in the third inning.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Reds rallied from a 7-2 deficit to defeat Philadelphia 8-7 in 10 innings; Jackie Brown's four-hitter led Montreal past Houston 2-0; Los Angeles pounded Pittsburgh 10-1; Chicago's Rick Reuschel blanked San Diego 2-0, and St. Louis beat San Francisco 9-6.

Reds 8, Phillies 7, 10 innings

George Foster's 15th homer of the season with two out in the ninth tied the score and Pete Rose singled home pinch runner Champ Summers in the 10th with the winner for the Reds. Home runs by Mike Schmidt, Greg Luzinski and Richie Hebner helped the Phillies build their early lead before the Reds scored four runs in the seventh to close in.

Expos 2, Astros 0

Brown won his third consecutive game for the Expos, who gained their eighth triumph in the last 12 games.

"I established my curve ball early and fooled the hitters in the late innings," said Brown. "I made a few bad pitches on occasion but the hitters got themselves out."

Dodgers 10, Pirates 1

Steve Garvey homered for the fourth consecutive game and Dusty Baker celebrated the signing of a new four-year contract with a homer and three runs batted in for Los Angeles. Rick Rhoden coasted to his ninth victory in 12 decisions with late relief from Mike Garman.

The Dodgers broke open the game with a seven-run sixth inning in which they sent 12 batters to the plate.

Cubs 2, Padres 0

Reuschel won his third straight game with a four-hitter as the surprising Cubs posted their sixth straight victory. Reuschel, who struck out nine, has not allowed an earned run in his last 26 innings.

Manny Trillo, the leading hitter in the National League with a .375 average, had three singles for the Cubs.

Cardinals 9, Giants 6

Ted Simmons hit his eighth homer and drove in three runs and Garry Templeton sent in the winning run with a single in the seventh inning as the Cardinals rallied to beat the Giants.

Jerry Mumphrey and Simmons had three hits apiece in pacing the 14-hit St. Louis attack. Derrel Thomas had four hits for the Giants and Marc Hill slugged a two-run home run.

Gary Nolan Traded To Angels

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds dealt veteran pitcher Gary Nolan to the California Angels for a minor league infielder and an unnamed player early today, shortly before the deadline for major league trading.

Right-hander Nolan, who has overcome two shoulder operations and who was one of the Reds' three 15-game winners last season, will join the American League Angels in return for 19-year-old infielder Craig Hendrickson of the Quad Cities Midwest League.

Hendrickson will report to the Red's Eugene, Ore., farm club in the Northwest League.

The Reds also announced that righthander Paul Moskau, 23, was recalled from their Indianapolis American Association farm team. He will join the Reds on a road trip that starts at Montreal Friday. Moskau was 7-2 at Indianapolis.

Nolan, 4-1, started for the Reds in their game here Wednesday night with Philadelphia, but the Phillies rocked him for five hits and four runs in the first inning to result in his being replaced with one out.

Ex-Rangers Owner Eyes Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert E. Short, former owner of the Texas Rangers, has indicated an interest in the financially burdened Cleveland Indians.

Short, 60, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and owner of several hotels and trucking companies in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area, said he's interested in the team.

He said by telephone from his St. Paul office, "It (the purchase of the Indians) is a long way from happening, but we're working at it. We'll be talking some more."

Cleveland President Ted Bonda Wednesday confirmed the two men met here two weeks ago, but said nothing has been pursued since.

"Short asked me about the club and I said it was available," Bonda explained. "He came to Cleveland and I told him the numbers (price) and all that, which is where things stand. I haven't heard from him since then."

"If Short gets back to me, we'll talk," he added. "I will be surprised if he does, but I don't know."

Short bought the Washington Senators in 1969, then moved them to Arlington, Tex., as the Texas Rangers in 1972. He sold the club to a group headed by Brad Corbett in May, 1975.

The Minnesota businessman tried unsuccessfully to buy the San Francisco Giants last year. He also owned the Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Association for nine years before selling them to Jack Kent Cooke, who moved the Lakers to Los Angeles.

Dog's Woes Bring Suit

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — As it was told to the judge, a 2-year-old German shepherd named Major lifted his leg in the natural fashion but his target was a live electricity junction box and the resulting charge blew him into the middle of the street.

Soon his personality began to change. He grew grumpy and distrustful and bit his owner, self-employed window cleaner William McGlynn, as he tried to console the injured animal.

The dog's hair turned white and fell out in lumps. Major seemed to age overnight.

McGlynn, 36, in telling the story, asked the Glasgow Sheriff's Court for a $765 damage award from the city government.

He said he was off work for eight weeks because of the dog bite.

But Sheriff Norman Macleod rejected the claim and said he was surprised to find the owners of a reportedly live electricity box blamed for an injury inflicted by a dog.

Cincinnati Firm Gets AF Contract

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Electronics Corp. reported it has received a $9.2 million Air Force contract to modernize radar systems controlling tail guns aboard B-52 bombers.

The contract calls for the firm to replace the vacuum tube design it developed for the radar systems in the 1950s with solid-state devices.

All of the 300 basic kits, data and support equipment ordered by the Air Logistics Center in Warner Robins, Ga., will be produced over a 20-month period, the company said.

Carew Leads Twins Past Angels, 3-2

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Say, who was that blur on the basepaths? That was no blur—that was Rod Carew.

Revered more as a hitter than a speedster, the veteran used both his legs and his head Wednesday night in leading the Minnesota Twins to a 3-2 victory over the California Angels.

Carew turned an ordinary double into a triple with a daring burst in the seventh inning, and that bit of highway robbery with one out eventually led to Craig Kusick's game-winning sacrifice fly.

"I don't think I would have tried to get three out of it if there had been two outs or another pitcher besides Frank Tanana," said Carew. "You don't score too many runs off him."

In other American League games, the Seattle Mariners edged the Oakland A's 6-5 in 11 innings, the Texas Rangers blanked the Cleveland Indians 6-0, the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Baltimore Orioles 6-2 and the Detroit Tigers trounced the Toronto Blue Jays 9-0.

Carew's triple was his 11th of the season. He also singled and boosted his major-league leading batting average to .388.

Dave Goltz blanked the Angels after giving up two runs in the first inning. The burly right-hander scattered nine hits, struck out eight and walked two while going the distance for the fourth time this season.

Tanana, 10-3, fanned just three, walked four and hit one batter. Jerry Remy tripled, doubled, and singled twice for the Angels, who fell 4½ games behind the frontrunning Twins in the American League West.

Nolan, 4-1, started for the Reds in their game here Wednesday night with Philadelphia, but the Phillies rocked him for five hits and four runs in the first inning to result in his being replaced with one out.

Mariners 6, A's 5

Juan Bernhardt's two-out single in the 11th inning capped a two-run rally as Seattle edged Oakland. Mike Kekich, 4-1, pitched four innings of relief and picked up the victory. Pablo Torrealba, 3-1, took the defeat.

Dave Collins opened the 11th for Seattle with an infield single, moved to second on Bill Stein's sacrifice and scored on Larry Milbourne's single, tying the score 5-5.

Dave Giusti then replaced Torrealba. Skip Jutze sacrificed Milbourne to second and Bernhardt then singled for the winning run.

Rangers 6, Indians 0

Mike Marshall, Adrian Devine and Darold Knowles combined on a four-hitter as Texas defeated Cleveland and handed the Indians their fourth straight loss.

Marshall allowed three hits before tiring in his third start of the year. Devine pitched the eighth and Knowles the ninth for Texas, which swept the three-game series.

Brewers 6, Orioles 2

Don Money capped Milwaukee's six-run second inning with a two-run homer, and the Brewers went on to defeat Baltimore behind the combined seven-hit pitching of Jim Slaton and Sam Hinds.

Money had two singles in addition to his homer, giving him 12 hits in his last eight games.

Cecil Cooper had two hits as Milwaukee sent 11 batters to the plate in the second. After Cooper launched the rally with a single, Mike Flanagan walked the next two batters.

Tigers 9, Blue Jays 0

Fernando Arroyo fired a five-hitter for his first major league shutout as Detroit beat Toronto. Arroyo kept Toronto batters blasting the ball into the dirt most of the game, and Tigers first baseman Jason Thompson made 16 of the Tigers' 27 putouts.

Arroyo, 4-1 as a starter since being inserted into the rotation May 14, improved his season record to 5-3.

Ex-Rangers Owner Eyes Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert E. Short, former owner of the Texas Rangers, has indicated an interest in the financially burdened Cleveland Indians.

Short, 60, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and owner of several hotels and trucking companies in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area, said he's interested in the team.

He said by telephone from his St. Paul office, "It (the purchase of the Indians) is a long way from happening, but we're working at it. We'll be talking more."

Buddy Bell Leaves; 'Personal Problem'

CLEVELAND (AP) — As if the Cleveland Indians needed another problem, third baseman Buddy Bell gave them one Wednesday night as he walked out on the club prior to their game with the Texas Rangers.

Bell, 26, has been Cleveland's "Mr. Dependable" in recent years, and his absence Wednesday broke a string of appearances in 234 straight games, dating back to Sept. 8, 1975.

Bell was not answering the phone at his suburban Cleveland home, but he greeted a visiting sports writer with a smile and didn't appear upset.

WEAPON INSTRUCTIONS — During the last week of rehearsals, John Mordon (right) gives "Tecumseh!" cast members instructions on the proper handling of a Kentucky Flint Lock, a gun from the period. He gives loading, firing and safety instructions to every cast member who must use a weapon. There are 41 working weapons used in "Tecumseh!" and each person is responsible for the wear and tear of the firing arms they use. When the weapons are not on the stage, they must be stored in the gun shed, located at the rear of the stage. Mordon said most of the weapons are as close to the time period as possible.

Budget Work Nears Completion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Members of the Senate Finance Committee were expected to complete work today on Ohio's two-year state budget.

The measure already was approved by the House and is needed by the start of the new fiscal biennium July 1.

The committee work moved along Wednesday night with the adoption of 65 amendments to the House measure, only hours after the Democratic majority forged passage 21-12 in the Senate of a companion budget "language" bill.

All sponsored by Democrats—the Republicans were to offer 13 amendments today—the committee changes included the addition of about $58.2 million to the House outlay for primary and secondary education.

Across the Statehouse, representatives approved 59-39 a controversial and once-vetted bill that sets tenure and due process rights for the state's public school teachers. It now goes to the Senate.

Bills have started to move with some speed in the legislature now that leaders have targeted July 29 for summer adjournment. In the House on Wednesday, 10 were approved and sent to the Senate, including the teacher tenure proposal.

Such as they are, minority Republicans flexed their muscles in the Senate with a slick parliamentary maneuver on the embattled Democratic budget language bill.

After lending their support to an immediately effective emergency clause, Republicans then withdrew all support from the package and left Democrats a couple of votes shy of the two-thirds majority needed for final passage.

Putting an emergency clause on a bill takes 22 votes in the Senate where Democrats prevail only 21-12. Thus the Republican maneuver nearly killed the proposal, and would have except for the alertness of Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-22 Akron.

Ocasek, seeing what was happening as the roll was called on the final bill, voted against it. That enabled him to move later for reconsideration. Motions to reconsider have to come from a senator who voted on the prevailing side.

"I didn't know they were going to do it," Ocasek said of the maneuver, but he added, with a smile, "you have to watch these things."

The bill then was reconsidered, the emergency clause removed, and it was passed as a regular bill requiring 90 days to become effective, after final approval.

The hottest debate came on a provision that requires controlling board approval of non-highway investigations requested by executive branch officials of the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, the bill's chief sponsor, said the need for the provision was demonstrated by recent workmen's compensation and other patrol investigations which cost the affected agencies about $300,000 that the legislature had not budgeted.

Under the bill, the governor or any department wanting to use the patrol for non-highway purposes would need in advance the seven-member controlling board's approval. The board consists of six legislators and one appointee of the governor.

Sen. Thomas A. Van Meter, R-19 Ashland, offered an amendment to delete the patrol language, but was voted down along party lines. Among other things, he said the patrol might be needed to move promptly into an investigation, and that the controlling board only meets every two weeks.

Van Meter also said he believes the patrol investigations could be hampered by leaks from board members who would be advised in advance as to what an investigation was going to be about. The bill provides that the board would be briefed about investigations at executive sessions, Meshel pointed out.

Otherwise, the budget bill contains these provisions:

—Authorizes the state auditor to devise a uniform accounting system for the state government and its political entities. Makes contracts for outside accounting services subject to approval by Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson, a Democrat.

—Consolidates more than 350 rotary funds controlled by various agencies into three special revenue funds, and authorizes pooling of these funds to take care of the state cash flow problem during low revenue months.

—Gives the controlling board authority to act upon monthly distributions of state subsidies by the Office of Budget and Management.

—Authorizes a speedup in collection of state income tax payroll deductions from employers, from 30 days after the end of a fiscal quarter to three days after. Meshel said the accelerated payments would generate from $40 million to $43 million in one-time revenues in the next biennium for allocation to welfare and other tightly funded programs.

Among several other provisions are those that require for the first time the submission of biennial budgets from such agencies as the Ohio Turnpike Commission, the Ohio Bridge Commission, and the Ohio Transportation Research Center, agencies which until now have had their budgets designed and implemented by boards of trustees.

WEAPON INSTRUCTIONS — During the last week of rehearsals, John Mordon (right) gives "Tecumseh!" cast members instructions on the proper handling of a Kentucky Flint Lock, a gun from the period. He gives loading, firing and safety instructions to every cast member who must use a weapon. There are 41 working weapons used in "Tecumseh!" and each person is responsible for the wear and tear of the firing arms they use. When the weapons are not on the stage, they must be stored in the gun shed, located at the rear of the stage. Mordon said most of the weapons are as close to the time period as possible.

Budget Work Nears Completion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Members of the Senate Finance Committee were expected to complete work today on Ohio's two-year state budget.

The measure already was approved by the House and is needed by the start of the new fiscal biennium July 1.

The committee work moved along Wednesday night with the adoption of 65 amendments to the House measure, only hours after the Democratic majority forged passage 21-12 in the Senate of a companion budget "language" bill.

All sponsored by Democrats—the Republicans were to offer 13 amendments today—the committee changes included the addition of about $58.2 million to the House outlay for primary and secondary education.

Across the Statehouse, representatives approved 59-39 a controversial and once-vetoed bill that sets tenure and due process rights for the state's public school teachers. It now goes to the Senate.

Bills have started to move with some speed in the legislature now that leaders have targeted July 29 for summer adjournment. In the House on Wednesday, 10 were approved and sent to the Senate, including the teacher tenure proposal.

Such as they are, minority Republicans flexed their muscles in the Senate with a slick parliamentary maneuver on the embattled Democratic budget language bill.

After lending their support to an immediately effective emergency clause, Republicans then withdrew all support from the package and left Democrats a couple of votes shy of the two-thirds majority needed for final passage.

Putting an emergency clause on a bill takes 22 votes in the Senate where Democrats prevail only 21-12. Thus the Republican maneuver nearly killed the proposal, and would have except for the alertness of Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-22 Akron.

Ocasek, seeing what was happening as the roll was called on the final bill, voted against it. That enabled him to move later for reconsideration. Motions to reconsider have to come from a senator who voted on the prevailing side.

"I didn't know they were going to do it," Ocasek said of the maneuver, but he added, with a smile, "you have to watch these things."

The bill then was reconsidered, the emergency clause removed, and it was passed as a regular bill requiring 90 days to become effective, after final approval.

The hottest debate came on a provision that requires controlling board approval of non-highway investigations requested by executive branch officials of the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, the bill's chief sponsor, said the need for the provision was demonstrated by recent workmen's compensation and other patrol investigations which cost the affected agencies about $300,000 that the legislature had not budgeted.

Under the bill, the governor or any department wanting to use the patrol for non-highway purposes would need in advance the seven-member controlling board's approval. The board consists of six legislators and one appointee of the governor.

Sen. Thomas A. Van Meter, R-19 Ashland, offered an amendment to delete the patrol language, but was voted down along party lines. Among other things, he said the patrol might be needed to move promptly into an investigation, and that the controlling board only meets every two weeks.

Van Meter also said he believes the patrol investigations could be hampered by leaks from board members who would be advised in advance as to what an investigation was going to be about. The bill provides that the board would be briefed about investigations at executive sessions, Meshel pointed out.

Otherwise, the budget bill contains these provisions:

—Authorizes the state auditor to devise a uniform accounting system for the state government and its political entities. Makes contracts for outside accounting services subject to approval by Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson, a Democrat.

—Consolidates more than 350 rotary funds controlled by various agencies into three special revenue funds, and authorizes pooling of these funds to take care of the state cash flow problem during low revenue months.

—Gives the controlling board authority to act upon monthly distributions of state subsidies by the Office of Budget and Management.

—Authorizes a speedup in collection of state income tax payroll deductions from employers, from 30 days after the end of a fiscal quarter to three days after. Meshel said the accelerated payments would generate from $40 million to $43 million in one-time revenues in the next biennium for allocation to welfare and other tightly funded programs.

Among several other provisions are those that require for the first time the submission of biennial budgets from such agencies as the Ohio Turnpike Commission, the Ohio Bridge Commission, and the Ohio Transportation Research Center, agencies which until now have had their budgets designed and implemented by boards of trustees.

The Baldwin-McNeal-Kerr reunion was held at the Laurelville Park on June 12. The prayer of Thanksgiving was voiced by Roy McNeal, preceding the 1 p.m. basket dinner. The afternoon was spent in visiting, reminiscing and picture taking. The young ones, and those young in heart took advantage of the swings, slides, etc. It was announced that next years reunion would be held the second Sunday in June at the same place.

Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Baldwin, and Ty, Troy and Travis; Mr. and Mrs. Roy McNeal; Gale and Carrie McNeal and Ivan, Kenny and Vanessa; Mr. and Mrs. Clell McNeal, Melvin, Michelle and Lisa McNeal; Peggy, Scott and Brian Davies all of Circleville. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hunt and Darrin; Mrs. Michael McFadden and Jarrod; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McNeal of Tarlton;

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McNeal; Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and Chip; Mrs. David Karr and Donna and Twila Thompson of South Perry; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sehr, Bill, Kevin and Danny of Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baldwin of Stoutsville; Mr. Noble Tomlinson of Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McNeal of Adelphi; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Kerr of Laurelville; Mr. and Mrs. Randy McNeal and Chris and Brooke of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Barnes, Mary Kay, Trent and Tina of near Rockbridge.

On June 12, the 50th reunion of the descendants of William and Mary Catherine Dozer Davis was held at the Ash Cave. The Davises were married in 1834 and were the parents of eleven children. After a picnic dinner, Mrs. Esther Mattox Rudolph, the president conducted a short business meeting. Mrs. Leona Reigel was elected secretary to replace Kenneth Davis who will be the family historian. A skit under the direction of Esther Reigel Grove had a descendant from each of the eleven Davis children give a short account of that family and the number of descendants each has. (My branch of the family tree had the least and it didn't get any help from my sisters and me).

Later in the afternoon most of the group drove to Liberty Hill Cemetery where William and Mary Davis and seven of their children are buried. A short service was held inside the Liberty Hill Church which Mr. and Mrs. Davis helped establish. A talk was given by one of their great-great-grandsons, the Rev. Franklin Frazier of Logan. A wreath was placed at their grave with the Rev. Frazier giving the prayer. Each person at the reunion was presented with a scroll bearing the Davis family coat of arms.

Those present from the immediate vicinity included: Harry Lehman, oldest member present and his friend Dorothy. Charlie and Cora Geil, Mrs. Mae Brimmer, Luther Brimmer and the Rev. Frazier, all of Logan; Mrs. Fern Davis Harble, Mrs. Grace Turner Allison and sons Dean and Pat of Logan, Rt. 2; Mrs. Mabel Stewart of Logan Rt. 4; Mrs. Cathy Sharp and children Troy and Tricia; Mr. and Mrs. Merton Lehman of Rt. 2, Logan; Mr. and Mrs. George Turner of New Plymouth; Mrs. Lucy Pollum and Dorothy and Mrs. Hulda Davis, west of South Bloomingville; Mrs. Mavis Lehman Edwards and Celesta Hoy of Laurelville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis of Missouri traveled the greatest distance to attend. Of interest to the group, on display, was the family Bible of William and Mary Davis, a number of pictures, and a quilt over 100 years old made by Almira Davis Reigel in 1874. The reunion next year will be held at Camp Otterbein near Logan, Ohio.

A bridal shower was held recently for Rita Steely. Hostess were Miss Tina Scott and Mrs. Becky Woodard. The gift table was decorated in colors of blue and yellow. Games were played and won by Jerri Pennington and Carol Krevs. The door prize was won by Mrs. Karen Steely. Guests were Linda Collis and Larry, Dianna Brust, Carol Krevs, Karen Steely, Joanne Rittinger, Viola Harding, Jessie Ramey, Tina Scott, Becky Woodard and Angel, Pam Cunningham, Jerri Pennington, and Michelle Miller. Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Virginia Krevs, Mrs. Kathleen Harding, Mrs. Ann Miller and family, Shelly Sowyer and Virginia Danner.

Mr. and Mrs. David Younker and their children Patsy, Mary and Jay moved Memorial weekend into the property just south of the Laurelville school building on Pike Street. Mr. Younker is the new police officer of the village. He retired from military service in 1975, and has just completed his social degree in Police Science at Hocking Technical College at Nelsonville. Before moving to Laurelville they lived near Lancaster where Mrs. Younker was employed at the Drew Shoe Co. Besides police work, Mr. Younker, who was born at Ravenna, Ohio is interested in photography. His wife Elianne, (pronounced Ill-e-ann) is a native of Pont-A-Mousson, France which was once Nazi occupied. Her hobby is collecting Lladro porcelain.

The new officer is also working as a coordinator of a Search and Rescue team to be formed of a citizens group of CB enthusiasts and others. Patsy and Mary have joined the 4-H group while Jay is a member of the Little League baseball team. It is good to see the police cruiser making it's rounds over town again. Mr. Younker tells me that, as he often sits down town in the evening checking traffic, he finds that the young drivers who enjoy cruising around the village do a better job of observing traffic laws than their parents do in the day time.

The Laurelville Senior Citizen group met on Monday night, June 13th, at the shelter house in the local park. Following the picnic supper, a business meeting was conducted by the president, Earnest Forster. Mrs. Peggy Butts gave the secretary's report and Damon Pontious, Treas, gave his report. Several matters were discussed. One was that of acquiring tables and chairs so that the group can meet in the room joining the fire house which is also used as the voting place for local residents.

For a short program readings were given by Ruth Notestone, Florence Iles, Ethel Poling, Celesta Hoy and Golda Paxton. The next meeting will be held at the shelter house at 6 p.m. July 11th. The regular meeting night is the second Monday night of each month.

Mr. Waldo Murllette, Mrs. Bernadine Bainter, Mrs. Jean Gatwood and Jack Karshner returned home last Wednesday from Wichita Falls, Texas where they attended the funeral of Larry Murllette, who died of burns on Sunday before. Mr. Murllette, who was the manager of Share-Data Computer Services of Wichita Falls, was working at his farm the day of the accident.

He was in the process of filling a propane tank on the back of his pickup truck which had a camper shell, when the gas became ignited. He died in Baptist Memorial Hospital in Oklahoma City. Larry was born in Stoutsville, Ohio, Feb. 14, 1936. Survivors include his mother Mrs. Elsie Murllette of Frederick, Okla. Two sons Jeff and David of Wichita Falls, and two cousins, Bernadine Bainter of Laurelville, and Jack Karshner of Wadsworth, O.

Services for Mr. Murllette were held on Tuesday of last week in the Gish Memorial Chapel with burial in the Frederick Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Haynes of Nelsonville, Mr. and Mrs. Stillman Dillie of Circleville and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shaw returned home on June 2nd. from a 12 day, four Island Cartan tour of Hawaii. The islands were toured by bus with the trips between the islands being made by plane. They report the flowers in bloom at this time of year (May) are fantastic. One of the high lights of the island trips was seeing the Grand Canyon of the Pacific.

On their own time, one evening they enjoyed a Hawaiian Luau. One afternoon they took a two hour cruise on Captain Bean's ship which also furnished entertainment and their evening meal. In Honolulu they attended a week night dinner show by "Halkulau", a Hawaiian singer and one evening they attended a Polynesian Spectacular. On Decoration Day they were at the National Memorial Cemetery where American flags had been placed on the 24,000 soldier's graves. One section is for unknown soldiers.

The school children make leis of fresh flowers and one is placed on each of the graves during the Memorial day services. The flags are only allowed to fly over the graves for a period of 24 hours, only on Memorial Day. One of the guides the folks had during their trip had graduated from Grandview High school in Ohio.

Mrs. Dillie, Mrs. Haynes and Mrs. Shaw are the Taylor sisters, Josephine, Nellie and Geneva. I understand that Stillman Norwood

(Known to old friends as Ben) and Raymond (Turk) are all wearing dark glasses now trying to get their eyes back in focus after watching all those beautiful Hawaiian girls dancing in their grass skirts. As Turk said, "they sure were flexible!"

Miss Frances McClelland returned home on last Friday from Mt. Carmel hospital-west where she was a patient for 10 days. She wants to thank every one who remembered her with beautiful flowers, the many many cards she received and the prayers and good wishes and those who visited her in the hospital. (Yes, Kitty McC. has returned home too and glad to be there after spending 10 days with those ruffians on So. Main St.)

My friend, Mrs. Jessie Defenbaugh of Circleville is a medical patient in Berger hospital. She became ill two weeks ago at the home of her niece in Alabama Where she had spent the winter. They returned to Circleville last Sunday and Jessie entered the hospital on Thursday. Mrs. Defenbaugh celebrated her 99th birthday last Sept.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Huffman of Columbus were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Egan. Ray and Mrs. Egan are cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Higman (Patsy Lattimer) and sons Dan and Todd of Albuquerque, New Mexico visited last week with her mother, Mrs. Edith Lattimer of Circleville. On Wednesday they were guests of Patsy's aunt and uncle, Raymond and Geneva Shaw of So. Bloomingville and all enjoyed dinner at Hocking Hills Lodge at Old Man's cave.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Hartsaugh were Mrs. Mildred Hiles of Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hartsaugh of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faigley and Tim of Lancaster.

Visitors of Margaret Johnson last week were Jack and Eileen Binkley, Billie Sue Johnson and sons Troyce and Johnathan. On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ash, Cheryl and Shannon joined the George Ash family and Margaret for a cook-out.

On June 22 a food preservation clinic will be conducted from 1-3 p.m. in the Youth Center Conference room at Logan, Ohio. A film on canning green beans and tomatoes will be shown followed by a question and answer period. There will be a discussion on how to use and care for your pressure canner. The second part of the class will deal with freezing fruits and vegetables. Food preservation literature will be available. For further information call the Hocking County Extension office, 385-3222. The public is invited - no fee.

Doctors' Pay Sore Point

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State lawmakers want to know more about doctors who get paid while on call at state mental institutions, even when they aren't called.

The issue came up this week at a meeting of the controlling board when the mental health and mental retardation department asked authority to enter into $505,000 worth of contracts.

Richard W. Nash, a department administrator, said the contracts were to be for various professional services at state hospitals—but would include some agreements with physicians who make themselves available on weekends.

In such situations, Nash said the doctors usually receive $20 an hour for placing themselves on call.

The department spokesman told the seven-member board, in response to questions, that even if the doctors were not called for weekend emergency situations, at least some made themselves available for routine physical examinations and other services. "They aren't at home watching television", he said.

Nash's explanation fell short of meeting the board's objections, and it voted without dissent to defer the department's request—as least so far as physicians' services were concerned—until a later meeting.

The department, as well as other state agencies, must obtain controlling board permission to enter into contracts that total $10,000 or more, if they have not invited competitive bids on the desired services.

House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, and Senate Finance Chairman Harry

Federal Prison

For Ray Studied

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The government will decide later this week whether to find a federal prison for James Earl Ray, U.S. Attorney General Griffin B. Bell says.

Here to address the National Association of Attorneys General Tuesday, Bell told a news conference he sympathizes with Tennessee Gov. Ray Blanton "because he's got a national figure in his prison who's being interviewed almost daily by members of the Congress."

Blanton has asked President Carter to have Ray, confessed assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King, moved from Brushy Mountain State Prison to a federal institution.

Ray escaped from the Tennessee prison Saturday but was recaptured Monday.

In addressing the attorneys general, Bell called for a new spirit of cooperation between the federal government and the states in the delivery of justice.

Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, complained that they also were unable to get satisfactory answers to other questions.

These included the number of hours claimed by individual physicians, whether their time on call overlapped with the hours of other physicians, and if, over the long run, it might not be cheaper to employ physicians full time to serve specific tours of duty at the hospitals.

Nash said the department had checked and found that it would be far too costly to employ physicians full time, and as it is, those willing to fill the void already have outside practices.

As to the other questions, Nash said he would have to check with individual institutions. The board requested him to do so, before returning with the request.

"I've got to have some documentation before I vote for something like this," said Shoemaker.

In Honolulu they attended a week night dinner show by "Halkulau", a Hawaiian singer and one evening they attended a Polynesian Spectacular. On Decoration Day they were at the National Memorial Cemetery where American flags had been placed on the 24,000 soldier's graves. One section is for unknown soldiers.

The school children make leis of fresh flowers and one is placed on each of the graves during the Memorial day services. The flags are only allowed to fly over the graves for a period of 24 hours, only on Memorial Day. One of the guides the folks had during their trip had graduated from Grandview High school in Ohio.

Mrs. Dillie, Mrs. Haynes and Mrs. Shaw are the Taylor sisters, Josephine, Nellie and Geneva. I understand that Stillman Norwood

(Known to old friends as Ben) and Raymond (Turk) are all wearing dark glasses now trying to get their eyes back in focus after watching all those beautiful Hawaiian girls dancing in their grass skirts. As Turk said, "they sure were flexible!"

Miss Frances McClelland returned home on last Friday from Mt. Carmel hospital-west where she was a patient for 10 days. She wants to thank every one who remembered her with beautiful flowers, the many many cards she received and the prayers and good wishes and those who visited her in the hospital. (Yes, Kitty McC. has returned home too and glad to be there after spending 10 days with those ruffians on So. Main St.)

My friend, Mrs. Jessie Defenbaugh of Circleville is a medical patient in Berger hospital. She became ill two weeks ago at the home of her niece in Alabama Where she had spent the winter. They returned to Circleville last Sunday and Jessie entered the hospital on Thursday. Mrs. Defenbaugh celebrated her 99th birthday last Sept.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Huffman of Columbus were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Egan. Ray and Mrs. Egan are cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Higman (Patsy Lattimer) and sons Dan and Todd of Albuquerque, New Mexico visited last week with her mother, Mrs. Edith Lattimer of Circleville. On Wednesday they were guests of Patsy's aunt and uncle, Raymond and Geneva Shaw of So. Bloomingville and all enjoyed dinner at Hocking Hills Lodge at Old Man's cave.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Hartsaugh were Mrs. Mildred Hiles of Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hartsaugh of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faigley and Tim of Lancaster.

Visitors of Margaret Johnson last week were Jack and Eileen Binkley, Billie Sue Johnson and sons Troyce and Johnathan. On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ash, Cheryl and Shannon joined the George Ash family and Margaret for a cook-out.

On June 22 a food preservation clinic will be conducted from 1-3 p.m. in the Youth Center Conference room at Logan, Ohio. A film on canning green beans and tomatoes will be shown followed by a question and answer period. There will be a discussion on how to use and care for your pressure canner. The second part of the class will deal with freezing fruits and vegetables. Food preservation literature will be available. For further information call the Hocking County Extension office, 385-3222. The public is invited - no fee.

Doctors' Pay Sore Point

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State lawmakers want to know more about doctors who get paid while on call at state mental institutions, even when they aren't called.

The issue came up this week at a meeting of the controlling board when the mental health and mental retardation department asked authority to enter into $505,000 worth of contracts.

Richard W. Nash, a department administrator, said the contracts were to be for various professional services at state hospitals—but would include some agreements with physicians who make themselves available on weekends.

In such situations, Nash said the doctors usually receive $20 an hour for placing themselves on call.

The department spokesman told the seven-member board, in response to questions, that even if the doctors were not called for weekend emergency situations, at least some made themselves available for routine physical examinations and other services. "They aren't at home watching television", he said.

Nash's explanation fell short of meeting the board's objections, and it voted without dissent to defer the department's request—as least so far as physicians' services were concerned—until a later meeting.

The department, as well as other state agencies, must obtain controlling board permission to enter into contracts that total $10,000 or more, if they have not invited competitive bids on the desired services.

Federal Prison

For Ray Studied

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The government will decide later this week whether to find a federal prison for James Earl Ray, U.S. Attorney General Griffin B. Bell says.

Here to address the National Association of Attorneys General Tuesday, Bell told a news conference he sympathizes with Tennessee Gov. Ray Blanton "because he's got a national figure in his prison who's being interviewed almost daily by members of the Congress."

Blanton has asked President Carter to have Ray, confessed assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King, moved from Brushy Mountain State Prison to a federal institution.

Ray escaped from the Tennessee prison Saturday but was recaptured Monday.

In addressing the attorneys general, Bell called for a new spirit of cooperation between the federal government and the states in the delivery of justice.

Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, complained that they also were unable to get satisfactory answers to other questions.

These included the number of hours claimed by individual physicians, whether their time on call overlapped with the hours of other physicians, and if, over the long run, it might not be cheaper to employ physicians full time to serve specific tours of duty at the hospitals.

Nash said the department had checked and found that it would be far too costly to employ physicians full time, and as it is, those willing to fill the void already have outside practices.

As to the other questions, Nash said he would have to check with individual institutions. The board requested him to do so, before returning with the request.

"I've got to have some documentation before I vote for something like this," said Shoemaker.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL — Vacation Bible Schools have or will begin soon in churches in Pickaway County. Classes center on Bible-related instruction, and crafts and games are used. In the picture, which was taken at the Calvary United Methodist Church's school, Director Judy Cooper discusses craft items with a class of young students.

Plan New Kentucky Supper Club

FORT WRIGHT, Ky. (AP) — A Northern Kentuckian plans to develop a new nightclub to fill the void left by the disastrous fire May 28 at the Beverly Hills Supper Club.

W.P. Butler, Crescent Springs, Ky., said he is hopeful of attracting financing for a $6 million redevelopment of the Lookout House, which burned in 1973.

Butler vowed the new club would be built of steel and concrete and conform to the National Safety Code which includes a sprinkling system.

"We will have all the exits, all the safety things, that are required today," Butler said.

Butler said his firm, the W.P. Butler Co., purchased the burned out club in 1974 but shelved development plans during the recession. The Richard Schilling family, which owned Beverly Hills, also owned the Lookout House during the 1960s. But the Schillings sold the club before the 1973 fire in which no one was injured.

Butler said his plans call for a 475-seat showroom, a 600-seat restaurant and a 230-room hotel.

"We would like to recreate some of the charm and atmosphere of the old Lookout House. We have pictures of it. It was an elegant place, much on the order of Beverly Hills," Butler said.

Both the Lookout House, in Kenton County, and Beverly Hills, in Campbell County, were major gambling casinos during the 1940s and early 1950s, according to the Kefauver Crime Commission.

However, both were reopened as supper clubs at different times.

Butler said his plans for entertainment are not nearly as lavish as those of the Beverly Hills—called "The Showplace of the Nation"—and featuring major entertainers.

"We don't anticipate the kind of entertainment that Beverly Hills had. They were very expensive," Butler said.

The Beverly Hills fire, in which 162 died, remains under investigation by state and federal authorities.

The National Fire Prevention and Control Administration said it will release its report on the fire Friday in Washington D.C.

Meanwhile, in Southgate, Ky., where the Beverly Hills fire occurred, City Council hired a legal firm to defend against lawsuits. Two suits seeking damages totalling $42 million have already been filed on behalf of two survivors and two fire victims. The suits, in U.S. District Court, charge negligence against the operators, the state and the city.

"No lawyer in the United States could handle what I anticipate as 250 to 300 lawsuits by himself," said

Southgate City Attorney Albert Root.

Southgate Mayor Kenneth Paul said he would ask Kentucky Gov. Julian Carroll for state contingency funds to continue city operations. Paul said loss of revenue from Beverly Hills, the city's major industry, is causing financial problems in maintaining city services.

Former JP Nabbed In Drug Raids

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — A former justice of the peace is free on $7,500 bond today, the result of a series of drug raids by state and Lafayette police.

Leon Townsend, 39, West Point, was among 54 persons arrested. He is charged with selling controlled substances to undercover police on three occasions.

Townsend was Fairfield JP until the courts were abolished in 1974.

About 100 law enforcement officials joined in the raids which climaxed a three-month investigation in Tippecanoe County.

Prisoners' 'Rights' Questioned

CINCINNATI (AP) — Should the state be expected to do a better job of protecting and providing for prison inmates than it does for society as a whole?

U.S. District Judge Timothy S. Hogan questioned the extent of the state's obligation Wednesday during final arguments in a suit filed by two inmates of the Lucasville penitentiary.

The class action suit claims that overcrowded conditions and the policy of putting two men in a single cell violate inmates' constitutional rights.

Hogan questioned the state's liability in protecting prisoners. The inmates' lawyers contend the penitentiary is a "jungle" created by the actions of prison officials.

"Does the state have to lock up each prisoner separately and insure that no harm is done during prison sentences?" asked Hogan. "We are not insuring law-abiding citizens against violence."

"In this society, we cannot just lock them up and throw away the key," said Chris Stanley, Cleveland lawyer. "The facility breeds criminals. These people are not angels, but they deserve to be reasonably protected from cruel and unusual punishment," Stanley said.

"Isn't it a question of degree, of when is too much?" Hogan asked Stanley.

"Here, in a free society, we've spent billions of dollars trying to keep people working and the only thing we've accomplished is that more people are out of work than when we started," the federal judge said.

A newspaper route can be a classroom.

There are no walls, no blackboards, no desks on a newspaper route. Nothing but fresh, open air. Yet you will find on the route a young person learning.

Learning to keep records.

Learning to handle money.

Learning the value of money.

Learning to make change.

Learning responsibility.

Learning to get along with people.

Learning how business operates.

Learning how to manage time.

Learning lessons that will help toward success in later life.

If newspaper route management as a learning experience looks like a good idea for your son or daughter, talk to-day with our circulation department. They'll tell you how it works and they are there to help the youngster. There is no obligation.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Direct your innate enthusiasm into progressive channels. You can accomplish more than many others during this period. Especially favored: business transactions, real estate interests.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Be patient if things don't go quite according to plan. An unforeseen, but necessary, alteration in your program could prove quite beneficial in the long run.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Stellar influences indicate new activities, intriguing experiences and the imaginative revitalization of all interests. Enjoy your day!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A better day for completing pending projects than for beginning new ones. Make plans for the latter, but don't launch until early next week.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Watch finances, but don't become overly anxious about them. Just make up your mind to pursue a conservative and realistic course.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Stars promise interesting developments and growth in areas that should stimulate your ambitions - and your ever-active mind.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Venus, benefic, invites you to bring forth your finest now. The only way in which you could possibly stymie good results is through hasty action - not normal with you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Don't put off tiresome tasks or you'll regret it later. They'll be twice as difficult to handle. Find ways to advance not noted before.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Good Jupiter influences! Trigger all action to blend with the top offerings of the day and add finesse to make matters run as smoothly as possible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Certain limitations to your progress can be overcome if you take time to reevaluate your aims and expand your program so as to make better use of your talents.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Don't mix business and pleasure to the detriment of either - which usually means both. In conferences, listen BEFORE you speak. A day for caution.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Greater recognition for your efforts indicated. Shake off a current tendency toward self-doubt. You are a bundle of talents. Use them!

YOU BORN TODAY have the mind, and usually the inclination, for intellectual pursuits. You also have a great love of beauty but, unlike many other Geminians, may prefer a business career to an artistic one. If so, you could best succeed at banking, manufacturing or commerce. Those of this date are also scientifically inclined and could especially excel in chemistry, physics of medicine. A natural fact-finder, you could also shine in the field of research and would make an outstanding detective. Traits to curb: introspectiveness, hypersensitivity, extravagance, stage and screen star.

Beer Bottles And Energy

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Mandatory electrical power black-outs have created problems for breweries here.

Temperature fluctuation in glass factories makes the glass brittle and causes bottles to crack under pressure during the bottling process.

Baby Turtles

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two tortoises, Peruvian red-foots whose origin goes back to the age of dinosaurs, were recently born at the Miami Seaquarium. The birth of turtles in captivity is virtually unheard-of, Seaquarium officials said. The new babies, measuring a scant two inches in length, were found next to their cumbersome three-foot-long parents this spring.

Views On Television

CAMP RERUN, Calif. (AP) — Dear Mom: How are you? I am fine. Well, here I am at Camp Rerun, winding up the one-week summer training they make all us TV critics attend each year.

It is a nifty place, but I must say I do not like the exercise period in the morning. They make us watch "The Gong Show," then leap up and cry, "Poor taste! Poor taste!"

You do this 100 times before breakfast each day and pretty soon you wish you were back covering Washington.

Yesterday, a short, swarthy man in a T-shirt, Baretta, I think his name was, ran a refresher course on what to do about TV violence.

He said we should get the PTA in a dark alley and mug it. Everyone laughed, of course.

Later, a fellow in a dark suit from New York taught us how to spell "profoundly moving." He said it was to be used only when reviewing a TV movie about Franklin D. Roosevelt.

We had been told Farrah Fawcett-Majors was going to hold a course called "The Art of Acting." Due to a prior engagement, though, she couldn't make it and sent her hair instead.

We began the week with a lecture by Lamont Doze, the noted news commentator. He spoke on why it is important to have commentary on the network news each night.

"They would put in four 30-second commercials otherwise," is what he said.

Another good lecture was "The Art of the Stand-in," by David Bald, who we were told is Kojak's stand-in. He wore his Hollywood toupee, the one with the rhinestone part, and was very impressive.

After a TV dinner last night, we heard from Sartre du Tube, the famous French TV critic. His topic was: "Being and Nothingness: A Case for Existentialist Situation Tragedy."

He spoke entirely in French, though. The only TV critic who understood him was some guy from San Francisco who kept crying, "Zut alors! Zut alors!"

But it was a good evening for Mr. du Tube. An ABC vice president who heard his talk bought the rights to it. He says it'll premiere next fall under the title, "Happy Daze."

Today, our last lecture will be by Gentle Ben. He'll speak on discrimination against bears in television. Ben hasn't worked for several years and maybe needs a good agent.

The agent could put an additional claws in Ben's contract. That is a bear joke, Mom.

Incidentally, your cookies arrived this morning. Thank you. But next time, please don't put name tags on each one. Well, got to go. Best to Dad and ask him not to talk so much at the TV set.

It hears everything he says and will get even some day.

Plastic Pots Popular

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Clay is the most widely used material for plant containers, according to Dick Husby of Phillips Products, but plastic is gaining quickly. The average plant owner has 5.8 clay containers and 4.7 plastic containers. The plastic container market had increased 95.8 per cent over last year, Husby said.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE
What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR FRIDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Direct your innate enthusiasm into progressive channels. You can accomplish more than many others during this period. Especially favored: business transactions, real estate interests.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Be patient if things don't go quite according to plan. An unforeseen, but necessary, alteration in your program could prove quite beneficial in the long run.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Stellar influences indicate new activities, intriguing experiences and the imaginative revitalization of all interests. Enjoy your day!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A better day for completing pending projects than for beginning new ones. Make plans for the latter, but don't launch until early next week.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Watch finances, but don't become overly anxious about them. Just make up your mind to pursue a conservative and realistic course.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Stars promise interesting developments and growth in areas that should stimulate your ambitions - and your ever-active mind.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Venus, benefic, invites you to bring forth your finest now. The only way in which you could possibly stymie good results is through hasty action - not normal with you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Don't put off tiresome tasks or you'll regret it later. They'll be twice as difficult to handle. Find ways to advance not noted before.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Good Jupiter influences! Trigger all action to blend with the top offerings of the day and add finesse to make matters run as smoothly as possible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Certain limitations to your progress can be overcome if you take time to reevaluate your aims and expand your program so as to make better use of your talents.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Don't mix business and pleasure to the detriment of either - which usually means both. In conferences, listen BEFORE you speak. A day for caution.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Greater recognition for your efforts indicated. Shake off a current tendency toward self-doubt. You are a bundle of talents. Use them!

YOU BORN TODAY have the mind, and usually the inclination, for intellectual pursuits. You also have a great love of beauty but, unlike many other Geminians, may prefer a business career to an artistic one. If so, you could best succeed at banking, manufacturing or commerce.

Those of this date are also scientifically inclined and could especially excel in chemistry, physics of medicine. A natural fact-finder, you could also shine in the field of research and would make an outstanding detective. Traits to curb: introspectiveness, hypersensitivity, extravagance, stage and screen star.

Beer Bottles And Energy

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) - Mandatory electrical power black-outs have created problems for breweries here.

Temperature fluctuation in glass factories makes the glass brittle and causes bottles to crack under pressure during the bottling process.

Baby Turtles

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) - Two tortoises, Peruvian red-foots whose origin goes back to the age of dinosaurs, were recently born at the Miami Seaquarium. The birth of turtles in captivity is virtually unheard-of, Seaquarium officials said. The new babies, measuring a scant two inches in length, were found next to their cumbersome three-foot-long parents this spring.

EMPLOYEES HONORED — Mike and Lois Schiff of Pickaway Grain Company, Circleville, were recently honored at the Ralston Purina Chow Honor Council held at Mohican State Park Lodge in Perrysville, Ohio. To be eligible for the weekend trip, the dealership sold a minimum of 900 tons of Purina Chows. Also in the picture are Sam Simonette (left), division sales manager, and Nile Ramsbottom (right), director of operations of the area Ralston Purina office at Circleville.

Former Local Boy At USAF Academy

A former Circleville resident has been notified of acceptance at the United States Air Force Academy in the Class of 1981, and also has been accepted for pilot training.

Paul Monarski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Monarski of Christiana, Delaware, has been an aviation enthusiast since the second grade of school. He is a member of the New Castle Cadet Squadron of the Delaware Wing of the Civil Air Patrol.

Mr. Monarski is associated with the DuPont Company, and was assigned to the Wilmington Delaware facility in 1973. Prior to that, the Monarskis had lived in Circleville since 1960. Paul was a student at Circleville Junior High School when the family moved to Delaware.

Paul holds solo wings from the Civil Air Patrol, and on April 25, he was selected by the CAP-USAF Daedalian Scholarship Board as one of two CAP cadets in the United States to receive a $1,000 Daedalian Flying Training Grant. The Order of Daedalians is a national fraternity of military pilots, some of whom served in World War I.

Paul reports to the USAF Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado on June 27. In the CAP, Paul is a cadet Second Lieutenant.

Paul's older brother Mike is also serving in the USAF at McClellan AFB, California.

The Civil Air Patrol was formed on December 1, 1941, by light aviation enthusiasts and private pilots to contribute to the nation's civil defense effort. Today, the all-volunteer civilian auxiliary of the United States Air Force flies 80 per cent of all Air Force authorized air search and rescue hours in the United States.

Teays Valley Gets Federal Assistance

Congressman William H. Harsha announced today the U.S. Office of Education has awarded $18,583 to Teays Valley School District.

The funds were provided for current expenditures to assist schools in federally affected areas, as authorized under Title I of Public Law 874.
